—The first shipment of this year's Nebraska wheat went East on Monday.

—Mr. Thacher, of New Ulm, Minn., shot and killed himself yesterday morning.

—Josephine Smith poisoned herself with morphine at Kearney Junction, Neb., on Saturday.

—A fire in Ellsworth, Ks., on Sunday, burned thirty-five buildings, including the postoffice, Episcopal Church and stores. The loss is about $30,000.

—A destructive tornado passed through Dixon, Ill., last Sunday night, and did great damage to crops, fences and other property in the vicinity.

—Reports say that negroes threaten to burn Austin, Mississippi, because Dr. Smith, who killed a negro there some weeks since, was released on bond.

—The President of Uraguay has sent a dispatch to President Grant congratulating him on the establishment of telegraphic communication between the two countries.

—William Wolfe, a miner employed in the Hayden coal mines at Haydenville, Ohio, while blasting on Monday, was instantly killed by a mass of coal falling upon him.

—The body of a well dressed man, supposed to be Robert P. Driscoll, a railroad conductor of Kansas City, was found in the Mississippi river at St. Paul on Monday, and interred.

—Col. Richard Tenbrocke, the well known horse owner, was shot and slightly wounded at Gelman's Station, Ky., on Saturday, by General Walter Whittaker, a lawyer of Louisville.

—The body of Charles Eagan was found in the river at Cleveland on Monday morning. The deceased was employed in the Cleveland Postoffice, and had been missing from home since last Friday.

—John Mooshopka, a Bohemian, who was imprisoned in the police station at Cleveland for the abuse of his family, committed suicide on Monday by jumping from the gallery of the third tier of cells to the stone floor, twenty feet below.

—The grasshoppers have literally devoured everything in Northern and Southwestern Kansas and Nebraska. The damage inflicted on vegetation is far greater than in 1866. The corn crop through all this region is totally destroyed.

—On Sunday, during service at a Methodist church in Edinboro, Pa., Miss Sally Goodwin was observed to faint. She was carried into the vestibule, where she immediately expired. So far as known she was in good health up to the moment of death.

—Duluth, Minn., had a severe hailstorm on Sunday. Five hundred dollars worth of glass was destroyed. Another hailstorm visited portions of Meeker county on Saturday night, being the second in a week. At Kingston, all the standing grain, including corn, was destroyed.

—About 175 members of the Michigan Legislature, together with the State officers, are on an excursion to the Lake Superior country. They will rendezvous at Chicago to-day, leaving there on Wednesday morning and make short stops at Milwaukee and Green Bay. They will be gone ten or twelve days.

—A man named Hegeman, living ten miles south of Elmira, N. Y., was set upon by two men yesterday afternoon and literally pounded to death. The names of his murderers are Langwell and Patterson. Langwell has been arrested, but Patterson escaped. The trouble arose about a dog which belonged to Langwell, and which Hegeman's hired man shot.

—Dispatches from various portions of Minnesota represent the wheat harvest nearly completed. The wheat has been saved in an excellent condition, and although the yield is not quite equal to that of last year, it is better than was expected, nearly or quite an average, while the quality is generally No. 1. In many portions of the grasshopper districts the yield of wheat is fair. Oats and barley are good, and corn and potatoes promise excellently.

—Near Carlisle, Nicholas county, Ky., on Sunday, a man named Hamilton, while attending a Methodist church, becoming offended at something said, stood up on a bench and flourished a pistol. Thomas Shaw, one of the trustees, succeeded in pacifying him and coaxing him out doors. When outside Shaw told him the penalty of the law for his offence, whereupon Hamilton shot Shaw through the heart. The congregation came out, seized the murderer and sent him to Carlisle, from where, for fear of lynching, he was sent to Lexington.

—D. B. Nain, a jeweler in Midway, Woodford county, Ky., while on his way home last Sunday evening, was seized by four masked men, and no trace of him has since been found. Evidences of a struggle were found in the neighborhood where he was seized, and it is probable that he was murdered and the body hid. A man who, hearing Nain's cries, came to his rescue, was driven back with threats of death. Several negroes, a little later, saw the men carrying Nain away. He was struggling and groaning. It is not known whether the object of the murder was robbery or revenge.

—A fearful tragedy occurred at Creston, Iowa, on Monday morning. J. C. Burnett entered the bed-room of his stepson, J. L. Brister, and cut the latter's throat from ear to ear. The presumption is that the murderer must have alarmed his victim as he approached the bed, for there is evidence of quite a struggle. Brister's wife, who was in bed with him, was literally drenched with blood. The woman was so crazed that the name of the murderer was all that could be got out of her. Burnett escaped, being pursued by a large force, and his capture is regarded as certain.

ANOTHER BROWNLOW.

A Choice Electioneering Circular.

Senator William G. Brownlow is not the only original in that family. He has a brother who, until yesterday, was a candidate for Register in Washington county, and the way that brother appealed to the sovereigns would have drawn salt water from the optics of a Government mule. We make some "choice extracts" from his electioneering circular, as quoted by a correspondent of the Memphis Avalanche:

"I am a Tennesseean by birth, and all that this word implies. I am fifty-nine years old, and have been living in the State and in the county thirty-five years, laboring in your midst as an humble mechanic, until I am broke down. Some seven years ago I lost my wife; she left me with five orphan children to take care of; I married the second wife, and she is weakly. My friend, Mr. Jarvis, is a man of property. He owns two farms on the Cherokee, and has had the little office twelve months, and during that time he has been keeping school at Bell's school house, and hired Mr. Chas. Dosser to attend to his business in this office. He has five more months to teach at Bell's in order to make out his school, and now he has one Vineta Zone, of index notoriety, as his deputy, and will continue said Zone, if elected. Now, fellow-citizens, is it fair for this man Jarvis to grab it all?"

But the stupendous style in which he disposes of his competitors and their claims is simply unapproachable:

"Sun, stand thou on Mount Gibeon high in the heavens, and thou, moon, in the Valley of Agalon, and witness, if you please, the entire annihilation and everlasting destruction of all who may dare oppose those modern Joshuas on their onward march to this little office. Be ashamed, and get out of the old man's way, and give it to me for one term, and then you may fight over it hereafter."

And if Calvin Jones could have resisted this, we would not care about taking his chances in the hereafter:

"Now, Calvin Jones, take a seat and sit down, cross your legs, and don't be uneasy. You came out for this office two months after I did; why are you so anxious for me to quit and let you run? Sit still, you know that I can beat you two to one in an even race. Now, Mr. Jones, this office would be an injury to you; you are worth three or four thousand dollars, a first rate farm in the Greasy Cove, and a good farm on the Cherokee. You had better be breaking up your ground for wheat."—Nashville Union and American.

In a Borrowed Livery.

A very funny story, aimed at those clergy of the High Church persuasion who make their dress a part of their religion, is told as follows in a letter from London: The other day the Roman Catholic Bishop of Nottingham, being in London, walked in the cool of the evening in Kensington gardens, in company with a friend of his, an officer in the army. They met a priest—to all appearances a Roman priest—who had a woman on his arm, who had her hand in his, and who was making fast and furious love to her. The face of the Bishop flushed red; he passed on; but he instantly turned back, and, overtaking the priest, begged permission to speak to him. "May I ask, sir, if you are a priest?" "Yes," was the reply. "A Catholic priest?" "Yes." "And may I ask under the jurisdiction of what bishop are you?" "Before I answer that question," said the priest, "I should like to know to whom I am talking?" "I am the Bishop of Nottingham," said his Lordship. "But we have no such Bishop in the English Church," replied the priest. "Oh!" exclaimed the Bishop, "then you belong to the English Church; I am delighted to hear it, and I beg your pardon with all my life; but I do wish that you would not walk about in our uniform!"

THE BROOKLYN SCANDAL.

Moulton Before the Investigating Committee.

His Statement to be Made Public To-day.

NEW YORK, August 10, 1874.

Moulton Before the Investigating Committee.

Frank Moulton was before the Beecher Investigating Committee about an hour to-day. One half the time was consumed in reading his statement and the remainder in cross-examination. Mr. Moulton said to a reporter that his statement would make about three quarters of a column, but this is not believed to include the documents submitted to the committee. An arrangement was entered into between the committee and Moulton that the statement should not be made public until eleven o'clock to-morrow morning, when the injunction of secresy would be removed and copies be furnished to the press.

The Brooklyn Eagle extra to-night says that Moulton, in his statement before the committee, said that he was prepared to submit the originals of the letters cited by Mr. Tilton in his statement, but apart from doing that he had no statement to make. His part in this business, he added, had been that of peacemaker, and that role he proposed to adhere to. Of the gossip that had come to his ears in any way, he had resolved to say nothing. If Mr. Beecher and Mr. Tilton were determined to fight, he could not prevent them, but he was resolved to add no fuel to the flame. The letters of which Mr. Moulton promises to supply the originals, are only those that Tilton quotes from in his statement.

Drawing to a Close.

The committee will hold an informal meeting for consultation at 11 o'clock to-morrow forenoon, and hold a formal session in the evening at Mr. Storrs' residence, to take testimony, and perhaps close the investigation.

LETTER FROM KANSAS.

Too Little Rain and Too Much Sunshine—Short Corn Crop Anticipated — Severe Drought and Grasshopper Devastation—Fearful Destitution Probable—Health of Kansas—Political Prospects.

Correspondence of the Pittsburgh Gazette

PERRY, Kansas, Aug. 3, 1874.

The telegraph brought us pretty full accounts of the disastrous flood with which your cities and vicinity was visited a week ago last night. In the successive numbers of the GAZETTE, subsequently received, I have seen the full details of the distressing affair.

While your people have reason to mourn over too much rain, we here have reason to lament the effects of too little rain and too much sunshine. Never did I see more hopeful prospects of abundant crops than we had until the latter part of June. But the drought and heat of July were fearfully disastrous. Many farmers on the upland prairies will have nothing at all; and even on the richest bottom lands, the corn is badly dried up. The wheat crop was good, except in a few localities, where the chinch bug destroyed it.

Last year the corn crop was short; but there was a large surplus from the abundant crop of the year before. This year there is no surplus to fall back upon; and really I cannot see how dearth and suffering are to be avoided. To make matters worse, immense flocks of grasshoppers have invaded the middle of the State, destroying every green thing in their course. The centre of the devastation is about the meridian of Fort Harker. The eastern part of the State, about one hundred miles west of the Missouri, has not yet been visited, and may not be. In Osborn county I learn that the corn is totally destroyed, and many other counties are not much better. In some places they are eating the peaches.

During the seven or eight weeks of dry weather clouds would gather only to be dispersed. Again and again there were all the signs of rain that could be desired; but it seemed as if the vapor could not be sufficiently condensed to descend in showers. About twenty-four hours before you had your tremendous outpour, it is stated by a newspaper writer that a very dark cloud passed over Atcheson at a great elevation, and moved rapidly eastward. He says it touched the earth in a few places between that and Pittsburgh, where it seems to have met a cold current from the Alleghenies, which precipitated itself upon you in a deluge. I often remarked, while the rainless clouds were passing over us, that the Eastern States would get it.

I have been in Kansas every year since 1866 but these two summers, '73 and '74, are the only ones when there was a deficiency of rain. But to have drought two years in succession, combined with chinch bugs and grasshoppers, is a great calamity; and I fear that the people of some of the more western settled counties will be obliged to call upon their more fortunate countrymen for means to live. In the eastern counties of this State the drought has been severe; and there will be no surplus, so that the district devastated by the grasshoppers will be left in a fearful state of destitution.

The general health in Kansas is very good. The weather for the past seven weeks, although very hot, was not unpleasant. Some days the thermometer rose above 100°; but that sultry, oppressive, enervating heat, so common in the Eastern States, is not experienced here. The hot, dry breezes, so hard upon vegetation, are not hard upon the animal system.

Our politicians are busy. We have a Governor, and other State officers, and three members of Congress to elect. The Republicans will unquestionably carry the State as usual, provided they make good nominations, as I think they will. Party ties are very slack here. There is no Democratic organization. J. C.

A PRIZE fight took place on Monday week, about three miles from North Lawrence, Stark Co., O., between Mike Daugherty and Evan Freese, Irish and Welsh respectively. They fought 27 rounds in 35 minutes, when Daugherty claimed a foul, and the disgraceful scene came to a close. The stakes were $250, but were not paid. The "show" ended in a row, in which revolvers and various other articles were used very carelessly.

THE Marion Mirror says: "Wm. Thomison, of Bowling Green township, while passing through an open field a few days ago was attacked by a large racer snake. His snakeship, without a moment's warning, elevated his head to a position horizontal with Mr. Thomison's face and was coming at the man with full force. As the snake was about to affectionately introduce himself it was checked in its mad career by a well directed kick from the frightened man. A second attack was made by the snake before Mr. T. could escape, which, after a spirited fight, resulted disastrously to the snake. It measured six feet in length."

ALEXANDER HAMILTON.

How a Great Scandal Was Dealt With Seventy Years Ago.

(From the New Orleans Picayune.)

About seventy years ago there lived in this country a very great man. His name was Alexander Hamilton. He had been a distinguished officer of the Revolution, and a trusted friend and counsellor of the illustrious Washington. On the organization of the Government, Hamilton became a leader of a great political party, and was appointed the first Secretary of the Treasury of the United States. He was the ablest man who ever filled that office. As a party leader at a time of fierce political excitement, Mr. Hamilton was the shining mark of many bitter assaults. His own party was not slow or moderate in its counter attacks. Mr. Jefferson was the target of the Federal or Hamiltonian diatribes. His private life, too, was overhauled, and his every act distorted into something criminal or immoral. There were no limits to this sort of abuse on both sides. At last the Jeffersonians lighted upon a precious bit of scandal against Mr. Hamilton, which did not even need coloring or exaggeration to render it excessively distasteful to his friends, and damaging to his reputation. The history ran thus: A buxom and attractive woman had visited the young and susceptible Secretary of the Treasury, and under pretext of seeking some favor of him, had captivated and seduced him from the paths of duty and morality. An amour of a somewhat extended and complicated character sprung out of the affair, which had gone far enough, however, to expose the character of the woman as an adventuress and blackmailer of the most avaricious nature. Finally, a convenient husband was introduced into the drama, an illiterate and vulgar fellow, who attempted the panel game on the great Secretary. Nothing but an office in the Treasury or $60,000 in cash would solace the wounds of his honor and connubial felicity which were inflicted by Hamilton.

The great man resisted and defied the arts and importunities of both the woman and her suppositious husband. Thereupon they sold their valuable scandal to the enemies of Mr. Hamilton who were not slow in laying the whole affair before the world. The friends of Hamilton denied the story at first, but were quickly silenced by the amazing courage and honesty of his answer. Freely admitting that he had strayed from the paths of duty, and had grievously sinned as father and husband under the wiles and seducing arts of a voluptuous woman, he indignantly repelled all aspersions on his honor as a public official and gentleman. For his sin, of which he had deeply repented, he asked the indulgence of his fellow-citizens, but if he had permitted himself to be misled by any arts or influence to a betrayal of the high trust confided in him, he should feel that he had no right to ask their forgiveness or indulgence.

It is a curious fact in our political and social history that Mr. Hamilton's manly answer completely disarmed the public censure, and he continued until his unhappy death the idol of his party, and the most admired and respected political chieftain of the era.

From Europe.

A letter from Berlin on the attempted assassination of Bismarck by Kullman, contains the following: The first step which the Government takes is to open an attack on the Catholic party. The private dwelling of Christopher Joseph Cremer, acting editor of the Berlin Germania, was searched by the police, who confiscated letters, manuscripts and some pamphlets. The next visit of the police, seven in number, was to the house of the Legation Councillor, Von Kehler, Secretary of the Mayence Catholic Union, and their booty was considerable, about eighty documents, letters, circulars and names of the members of the society. On the same evening Herr Von Kehler's work-room was searched, and again on the following morning. The place of meeting of the Berlin Catholic Gesellenverein (Union of Journeymen,) and the house of Vicar Spiritual Councillor Muller, the father of the Catholic societies in Berlin, were searched, and these police inquisitions have been followed by the temporary closing of the Catholic societies of Berlin. One authority states the number of members of Catholic Gesellen Unions in Germany to be 80,500. Besides these there are hundreds of other societies, such as Catholic adult societies, Catholic young men's societies, university societies, and societies of women and of children. The connection of Father Hauthaler with the attempted assassination is given as follows: He had a desire to see Bismarck. He was in Schweinfurth, and not having much money, yet was bent on seeing the Chancellor. Before returning home he paid a flying visit to Kissengen. He arrived there at an early hour in the morning, and since Bismarck does not drive out until one o'clock, he had some hours to spare, which he spent in walking up and down the pavement in front of the Prince's house. In his perambulations, he got into a conversation with Kullman, who, too, said he was desirous of seeing the Prince, and they talked together at intervals. At last at one o'clock the crowd grew larger, and Bismarck's carriage was expected every moment. Kullman stood on the pavement opposite Bismarck's house. Pastor Hauthaler found himself in what he thought a bad position on the other side of the street. As the wagon of the Prince drove out of the yard Hauthaler, thinking he had not a moment to lose, and being exceedingly short-sighted, ran across the road and was slightly tripped up in the middle of the road by his long coat, and the Prince's coachman had to rein up suddenly to prevent an accident. At this moment a shot was fired. Hauthaler knew by intuition in what a critical position he had placed himself, and therefore desired to get away as quickly as possible. When Hauthaler left the court the Justice accompanied him as far as the railroad depot, in order to prove to the outside world the old man's innocence.

The People's Movement in Missouri—County Convention in St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, August 10.—The People's County Convention met to-day in Turner's Hall. Adolphus Meir was elected President, and Judge Charles Speck Vice President. After considerable discussion it was decided that the Convention should adjourn till August 17th, to give the delegates from each ward of the city, township and county time to canvass their respective districts and ascertain what suitable persons will pledge themselves to serve as delegates to the People's State Convention. The names of such persons will be reported to the Convention on its reassembling, and six from each ward and three from each township will be selected by that body as delegates to the State Convention.

An Independent Nomination in Kansas Declined.

ATCHISON, KAS., August 10.—The Daily Champion is authorized to announce that Hon. Chas. F. Kaester, who was nominated for State Treasurer by the Independents in the late convention, positively declines to accept the nomination. Kaester is a firm and consistent Republican.

A Congressional Nomination in Iowa Declined.

CHICAGO, August 10.—A Tribune special says George W. McCrary, nominated to Congress by the Republicans of the Fourth District of Iowa, has written a letter declining the nomination. He says, in explanation, that he was induced to change his first intention of not becoming a candidate by representation by his friends that his acceptance would harmonize all discordant elements of the Convention. This has not been the case. On the contrary, he finds it has tended to widen the gap between the factions, and he considers it his duty to withdraw his acceptance of the nomination.

THE INDIANS.

The Arrapahoes and Cheyennes Getting Ready for War.

OMAHA, Neb., August 10.—Information from Fort Laramie says the Sioux Indians report that the Arrapahoes and Cheyennes are getting ready for war. Many Sioux will go with them should this be true. The military are very active, but their movements are kept as quiet as possible so that the Indians may not be informed thereto through renegade whites and half-breeds. Gen King and the Ninth Infantry headquarters departed for Fort Laramie to-day.

DAYTON.

Mrs. Burke, of Allegheny City, Detained by Officers—A Resemblance of Her Son to Charley Ross the Cause.

DAYTON, O., August 10.—Mrs. Burke, of Allegheny City, was detained here to-day by officers who suspected that a little boy, five years old, that accompanied her was Charley Ross. A dispatch from her home removed the suspicion, and she was allowed to proceed to Cleveland, where she was going.

The Ross Abduction.

BENNINGTON, Vt., August 10.—A woman was arrested here to-day on suspicion of being the abductor of Charlie Ross, a little boy answering his description being in her company. The child was taken to the telegraph office and questions were asked dictated from Philadelphia. He answered a number of these correctly, and at the conclusion came a telegram from Philadelphia instructing the Chief of Police to detain the woman and child. The uncle of Charlie Ross will be here to-morrow to identify the child. The boy says he has two names—Charlie Ross and Charles Augustus Hamilton.

THE CAPITAL.

WASHINGTON, August 10, 1874.

Defrauding the Postoffice Department.

The Postoffice Department has under consideration the case of Wheeler, the manufacturer of postoffice supplies, and who is also the publisher of the Postal Journal, who sent copies of his paper advertising his wares to, it is supposed, nearly all the postmasters in the United States, without taking the publisher's oath required by a recent act of Congress. In addition to this, he enclosed a small circular, two by four inches. Postmasters receiving papers are sending them into the Department with the assurance that they are not subscribers. The penalties are, first, letter postage, and five dollars fine on each paper containing a circular; second, a fine of fifty dollars on each paper mailed to any one other than bona fide subscribers; and, third, fifty dollars fine for each offence of swearing falsely to the list.

The new Board of Public School Trustees appointed recently by the District Commission met to-night. Geo. F. McClellan (white) was elected President and Jno. H. Brooks (colored) Secretary.

Henry Johnson (colored) submitted a resolution for the revision of the rules and discipline of all District schools.

S. G. Brown (colored) offered a resolution to divide the District of Columbia into fifteen school districts, one for each Trustee, which would give to each trustee, white and colored, charge over both white and colored schools.

These resolutions were referred to a committee of which a colored man is chairman, and a majority of such committee was in favor of both resolutions. One member of the committee, George W. Dyer (white), declared himself in favor of mixed schools. Of the fifteen new members, ten are white and five colored. There was no dissent expressed from Dyer's declaration for mixed schools.

ST. LOUIS.

Wholesale Murder in an Abortionist's House—Cremation put into Practice.

ST. LOUIS, August 10.—Another horror has come to light here, involving perhaps the lives of several persons and a number of infants. Madame Formeyer, a midwife, residing at No. 1,817 Morgan street, was arrested yesterday on a charge of committing abortion. The dead body of a young mulatto girl, named Lena Miller, was found in the house, and another young woman, name unknown, was lying very sick and in great pain. She was removed to the hospital. The skeleton of an infant was also found in the house, and the partially burned bones of a fœtus was discovered in the stove. It is stated that Madame Fortinmeyer has practised abortion for several years, and that a number of infants, or fœtuses, have been cremated by her, and that several highly respectable persons in the city are involved in the matter.

Later.—The police have considerable additional information in the Formeyer abortion case, but refuse to give it out at present. It can be said, however, that she has made a confession to the general effect that she had been in the business several years, has produced several hundred abortions, and implicated quite a number of highly respectable people of the city. It had been her custom to burn all fœtuses in the ground, as she expressed it, "ashes tell no tales." Several instruments and medicines used in her business found in the house were taken possession of by the police. She says Lena Miller, the mulatto girl who died under her treatment, had been operated on before she came to her. The German girl, who was sent to the hospital, and from whom she took a living child, she says will die. The girl, it is said, recently came from Geneva, Ill., and claims to be respectably connected. Her name is withheld by the police. An inquest on the dead will be held to-morrow, when startling facts are expected to be brought out.

ARKANSAS.

Rioting at Austin.

MEMPHIS, TENN., August 10.—A special to-night from Helena, Arkansas, to the Appeal says the steamer Trader was met to-day at O. K. Landing by a party of negroes, who informed Capt. Smith that he could take his boat to Austin, but that he could not return. Capt. Smith deemed it most prudent to turn back at once. It is reported from over the river that a fight occurred at Austin this morning and that the negroes were repulsed. They have sent a messenger to Coahoma county, Mississippi, and this place to get all the recruits possible. It is also stated that the negroes will attack Austin to-night.

MEMPHIS, August 10.—The Avalanche's Helena special this evening says the officers of the packet Trader say that the boat was prevented from passing O. K. Landing to day by a mob of negroes. Austin seems to be in possession of the whites, but no particulars can be learned, from which it is inferred that trouble may yet occur at Austin.

Repudiation of Bonds.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., August 10.—The Finance Committee made a majority report to the Convention to-day in favor of the repudiation of what is known as the "Halford bonds, State and railroad bonds, and levee bonds."

Hot Weather.

The past four or five days have been the hottest known in the memory of the oldest inhabitants. Yesterday the thermometer stood at 105 degrees, and to-day at 104. The air from the south has the appearance of being driven by a furnace.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, August 10, 1874.

Excitement over the Kilduff Murder.

The excitement over the Kilduff murder is intense in the eastern district of Brooklyn, where the deceased was looked upon as one of the leaders of the Plasterer's Union. The ill feeling between the members of the Union and non society men is very high, and great anger is manifested toward the "traitors," as they are designated by Union men. All Saturday a large number of masons congregated in the neighborhood where the deed was committed, and around the station, talking excitedly of the murder and the subject of working eight or ten hours a day. Kilduff's special animosity seems to have been directed against James Burke, whom he first attacked when he entered the building, and he had been heard several days previous to make threats against him. At a meeting of the members of the Union, the non-society men were severely condemned for their action, and resolutions were passed expressing profound sorrow at Kilduff's death. The funeral took place yesterday from Kilduff's late residence, and was attended by a large number of society men.

Wife Murder in Brooklyn.

John Ewell fatally stabbed his wife at their residence, Brooklyn. He alleges as the cause of the act that she was unfaithful to him.

CHICAGO.

The Late Bishop Whitehouse.

CHICAGO, August 10.—Bishop Whitehouse, whose death was announced in this morning's dispatches, had been sick but a little over a week. Previous to his illness he had taken a trip of twenty-one days in Wisconsin, and during that period had preached forty sermons. His efforts proved too much for his constitution, and he immediately gave up work. On reaching home he was not considered dangerously ill, till Saturday evening, when he suffered a paralytic stroke and became unconscious. On Sunday he roused sufficiently to recognize his children and receive holy communion, but henceforth declined gradually until his death, which occurred at nine this morning. At the time of his decease, Bishop Whitehouse was seventy-one years of age. His fame is nearly as great in England as in America, he having received the titles of D. D., LL. D. and D. D. Oxon from Oxford University, England, an unusual distinction for an American. He was a man of profound and varied knowledge, and a most devoted Churchman. His brother is on his way from New York, whither his body will be taken to be placed in the family lot in Greenwood Cemetery.

CINCINNATI.

Examining the Site for the Southern Railroad Bridge.

CINCINNATI, August 10.—Committees of steamboatmen and business from Pittsburgh and Cincinnati to-day met Col. W. S. Merrill, Col. Simpson, and Major Guter, United States Military Engineers, and discussed and viewed the site chosen by the Southern Railroad trustees for a railroad bridge across the Ohio near the mouth of Mill creek, this city. The site was examined in a boat, and a protracted informal consultation and discussion was had between the parties. The conference will continue to-morrow. The results will be reported to the Secretary of War.

THE serious illness of Thiers, ex-President of the French Republic, is causing uneasiness among his friends. Having passed the seventy-eighth year of his age, his death may be looked for at any moment. Such an event would revive many exciting memories in France, dating back to the time of the great Revolution, of which he is the grand historian.

THE President declines to deliver the dedicatory address at the inauguration of the National Lincoln Monument, at Springfield, Illinois, on the 15th of October, for the reason that he feels unable to the task. He hopes the Association will select some one to perform that duty who will meet the expectation of the nation, and who can do justice to the memory and patriotic services of the great man in whose honor the monument has been erected.

A REPORT comes from Bennington, Vermont, that a woman has been arrested at that place having in her charge a child answering the description of Charlie Brewstew Ross, the little boy abducted from his parents in Philadelphia more than a month since. Quite a number of arrests have been effected in various parts of the country since the promulgation of the reward of twenty thousand dollars, but thus far without securing the lost boy, and it remains to be seen whether he has really been secured by this latest.

AMONG the so-called available candidates brought forward for President and Vice President on the Democratic side we now have General Sherman for President and General Gordon for Vice President. The name of General Bristow is also suggested as a suitable candidate for the Republican nomination. The time is not too short for other names to be mentioned in connection with the next Presidency. Let them be known, and give the people an opportunity to select the best material offered. Who's next on the list?

RIGHT REVEREND HENRY J. WHITEHOUSE, Bishop of the Episcopal Church in the Diocese of Illinois, died at his residence in Chicago on Monday morning. The Bishop was attacked with paralysis of the brain, resulting apparently from hard work long protracted, and it seemed like that sudden breaking down of the system which comes without warning upon almost all who reach his age—very much like the failing in Senator Sumner's case. Bishop Whitehouse was seventy years of age, and was quite active, having a very short time since preached fifteen sermons within ten days.

THE people of Vermont may well be proud of the financial condition of their State. It, says the St. Albans Messenger, "owes not any man, or, if it does, it has on hand more than enough to pay him. Last year, the balance of liabilities over assets was more than $100,000. It has been overcome, and there is now a balance of assets of upwards of $20,000. Some $50,000 of our bonds are not due till December next, $110,000 are not due for two years, and $65,000 are not due for four years. The holders like to keep them, and it is next to impossible for the treasurer to buy them in, even at such times of distress as the last year's panic brought, and the result is that he deposits in the leading banks of the State the surplus accumulations, awaiting the time when they will be needed, and affording a great advantage to the business interests of the State."

THE Albany Evening Journal, referring to the recent re-election of Mormon Cannon as Delegate to Congress from Utah Territory, says "it is thought in Washington that the return of this pestiferous polygamist will open anew the whole Mormon question, and that it is not unlikely the next Congress will pass a resolution of expulsion, and thereby teach Brigham Young and his brazen Cannon a lesson they very greatly need to learn. It is about time this Mormon nuisance were disposed of. The hope entertained by some that there would be a muss in the family, and that the women would rebel and burst up the concern, has been dispelled by the tenacity with which they cling to the institution. A little wholesome legislation concerning the evil will do good work, and after this defiant attitude in sending Bishop Cannon again to Washington we hope Congress will not hesitate for a moment to hustle him out of its presence."

THE STATE CONVENTION.

We are rapidly approaching the time selected for the meeting of our State Convention. So quiet are the times, and so few the candidates, that we do not know that anything we can say will change the predetermined order of events. The delegates have generally been selected under circumstances that render it quite probable that the Convention will be under the control of our State politicians who have hitherto dictated the policy of the party. And accepting this as the fact, it is not hard to indicate in advance the probable nominations. The drift for Lieutenant Governor seems to be toward Hon. James L. Graham, of this county, while Auditor General Allen will be renominated, and Judge Paxson be given the Judgeship. This is the present outlook, unless the necessities of next Winter as regards United States Senator, shall modify the plan. We do not think a distinctly bad ticket will be put in nomination, as those who do the managing are very clearly aware of the danger of such a course. Of Senator Graham, we do not need to speak particularly at this time. General Allen has many kind and courteous things said of him by the Eastern press, and, we do not doubt, deservedly. We have but one special objection, and that we have distinctly stated,—his failure to so shape the monetary affairs of the State, as to put away all ground for suspicion that those moneys are used for purposes of private speculation. We have said, and still say, that this is a grave dereliction of duty, and that it will seriously embarrass his election. Of Judge Paxson we know no personal objection.

If the programme of nominations has not been irrevocably fixed, we have a few words of plain reason to address to those who control it, which we trust will be heeded. 1. The success of the Republican party, in this contest, is not assured with that undoubted certainty, that will admit of any weakening mistakes. Right or wrong, there is an undercurrent of dissatisfaction with the State Ring, that has been intensified by several serious political mistakes. One of these is a spirit of illiberality and of oppression that has been manifested toward all who would not unhesitatingly obey its mandates. The closeness of the vote outside of Philadelphia, on Mr. Mackey's election, was an illustration of this feeling. 2. The present is a time when candidates must depend, in a large measure, upon their personal strength, and hence weak names should not be presented. 3. With a respectable ticket, we know of nothing that can be done that will be wiser or more popular than for the Convention, in some form that will command popular confidence, to declare for the rigid fulfillment of the requirements of the Constitution, that the State moneys shall only be used for the profit of the State. Were action taken by the Convention to this effect, in a way that would dispel doubt, and were that action confirmed by the practice of the State Treasurer, there would be given, in that one fact, immense power to our State ticket. This is political sense.

We are not confident that this will be done. In view of that probability, we may add that the course pursued for a few years past will be certain to wreck the party in this State, or at best to fritter away its majority. It is not necessary that this should be done. The rank and file of the party only ask for fair treatment, and proper consideration. If this is given, well; if not, ill. And it is more to the interest of the leaders to conciliate the kindly feeling of the masses, than it is to the interest of the rank and file to be conciliated. It is not merely among the plans of the managers to secure the United States Senator in place of Scott, but they desire the endorsement of Governor Hartranft for a second term, and even are casting their plans forward to the next Presidency. Yet in the face of all, they mix in local contests, foist objectionable Legislative candidates on the party, bitterly fight those who have been and would be their friends, and force them into a position of antagonism. We deliberately affirm that but for the course pursued by the State Ring, we would have had a much better Legislative ticket in this county than we now have, and there would be a kindly feeling toward them, where there is now antagonism, and the party would be strong where it is weak. Make this general, and lose the State, and what of all those magnificent plans that lie out in the future, the nature of which we might readily indicate? Is it not palpable that the policy being pursued is unwise? We say that now is the time to change. Will our leaders listen to the plain but kindly warning and advice we give?

THE CREDITORS' MEETING.

This afternoon the creditors of the Allegheny Valley Railroad meet, at the call of their Committee, to receive a report of the result of their negotiations for the settlement of the claims against that road. From what we hear, as the result of conversations with the officers of the road and others, we are confident that we can extend words of cheer to the creditors, and the Allegheny Valley Railroad officiary as well. They have fully recognized the claims of the creditors, and have, as the result of further examination, seen that the road has a basis of credit that admits of a satisfactory arrangement with all concerned. Hence bonds will be issued that will be found equal to any railroad bond in the country, in point of secure value, and these will be used for the settlement of all existing claims. We cannot enter into details, but what we have above stated will be found to be correct. The negotiation has been slow and delicate, but we are gratified to say, that being completed, the railroad officers are as well pleased as any, and all are gratified and delighted at the outcome. And we feel particularly glad at this phase of the subject, to testify to the honorable course pursued by President John Scott in this final negotiation, and to say to the creditors that he deserves the most kindly consideration at their hands for the spirit shown and services rendered. It may, however, be said, that the completion of this negotiation, in such a way as to relieve the road of pressing debt, places him at the head of one of the most promising and hopeful railway enterprises in the country. The real value, and present and prospective business of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, and the certain future prosperity, was not realized, even by railway men, at the inception of these troubles. When we pointed out, that the rehabilitation of its oil trade, or even its coal trade alone, when properly developed, would pay the interest on the debts in dispute, the statement was received with positive incredulity, and one of the officials of that road undertook to patronizingly correct our error. It is now believed, as the result of close and careful investigation, that all we said in that direction was correct, and that the road is possessed of recuperative power, and future prospects, far in advance of what was at first thought. To be President of such a road is an honor not to be lightly estimated, and we are gratified that it is enjoyed by a gentleman for whom we entertain a cordial regard,—Mr. John Scott.

Another element in the transaction that now waits the formal sanction of the creditors, is the saving from sacrifice of the stock of the road. It is ascertained that the stock not held by the Pennsylvania railroad is somewhat widely scattered, much of it being held in small lots, by persons to whom the loss would be a privation, in the sense that it represents hard earnings, which they hope will yet be saved fully by an advance in the value of the stock. In brief, the arrangement is one that consults the interests of all parties, and protects all in the most perfect manner. In this relation, it may be said that while the Allegheny Valley Road is the principal in the case, the Pennsylvania Railroad, an important creditor, has contributed an important service in the settlement of the difficulty. From the outset, we believe the President of that road, Colonel Thomas A. Scott, has felt kindly and been anxious to find a way whereby the interests of the creditors of the Allegheny Valley could be conserved, and we attribute to him much of the credit for the successful issue of the negotiations. While we have felt necessitated to develop the relations between the Pennsylvania and Allegheny Valley roads, it has been continually with a view of showing that the two were so identified in interest, that the one should aid the other. A few of our friends have thought that our criticisms were unwise. The issue proves our correctness, and we appeal to every editorial published as affording evidence of our entire friendliness toward the Pennsylvania Road. A true friend is not sparing in criticism when necessary—it is the part of a truckler always to praise. But we may now say, without danger of being misapprehended, not only that we think the Pennsylvania road all that its most enthusiastic friends claim for it, but also that under the Presidency of Col. Thos. A. Scott, its future will be much brighter and grander than its past. In saying this, we do not seek to flatter, but to utter honest and carefully-formed convictions.

When the report is acted upon to-day, we may have more to say. From what we know of it, we have no hesitancy in advising the creditors that their interest lies in the prompt acceptance of the conditions proposed in the report. The bond given will be in every way safe, and its issue and acceptance will happily end what at one time threatened to be a serious and complicated legal struggle.

WE alluded, a few days ago, to the remarkable facilities afforded by the arrangement of routes by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, whereby excursion tickets at reduced rates are furnished to nearly every popular resort in the whole country, as well as the many interior places as those along the sea-beaches. The Pennsylvania Company deserve public thanks for inaugurating such facilities, and we hope the use made of them will be so extensive that they will be continued in future seasons. On this subject the Philadelphia Enquirer well says:

"The facilities now presented for summer travel are so perfect that the most exacting cannot fail to be suited. All our great railroads and steamboat lines have made the accommodation of tourists a specialty, and it is astonishing to see the degree of perfection with which routes have been arranged leading almost everywhere, and along which all needed comforts are provided. Take, as an instance, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, which from its extended system of roads and connections, confessedly stands at the head of the list. That company have now arranged more than six hundred excursion routes, embracing in their compass every prominent resort in New England, Canada and the Middle States, and their summer excursion book, which, by the way, is a very handsome little volume of nearly two hundred pages, points out clearly the pleasant places open to travelers, telling them what it will cost to reach them, and what there is to see and enjoy when they get there, and what means of transit can be used going and returning. No better guide than this could be put into the hands of the many who have become weary of the great resorts, and desire to "tone down" by pleasant jaunts and quiet rests before returning to the duties and cares of home life, and no region can rival the mountains of Pennsylvania as a field for such Autumn tourists."

POLITICAL.

IT is said that General Butler has concluded to run for Congress in the Essex district.

FORTY Norristown Democrats pledged themselves to support the Republican ticket this Fall, and were permitted to vote at the next Republican primaries.

THE delegates from Lycoming county to the Democratic State Convention have been instructed to support Gen. Richard Coulter, of Westmoreland county, for Lieutenant Governor.

THE St. Louis Dispatch confesses that the Democratic party, "for the first time in fourteen years, is beginning to crawl out of the brush." It might as well crawl back again and keep up the guerrilla warfare, for the combined hosts of Republicanism will prevent it from gaining any substantial victories.

IF abuse could defeat General Garfield he would stand little chance of returning to Congress. But this method of attack makes more public the fact that by his personal and faithful labors he saved the country more than $15,000,000 at the last session of Congress. He will certainly be renominated, and just as certainly elected.

THE following nominations were made by the Democratic Conventions in the First, Second and Third representative districts in Schuylkill county, August 5th: First district, Frank M'Keon; Second district, Richard Thornton; Third district, Joshua Boyer. The Convention for the Fourth district was held on the 6th inst., and nominated Thomas M. Kerns, Col. E. Wynkoop and Fred. L. Foster.

AND even now, while no Democrat can be found who will not tell us that he rejoices that slavery is dead, and the negroes are all free, and almost swear that he was a blue abolitionist from the first, yet it would be easier to get blood from a turnip than to get his help by voice or hope to aid in giving the negro one iota of advantage, or to lift him to a higher plane than slavery left him. The Democrats who blew so loudly in 1872 for Greeley and civil liberty are, to-day, an unbroken phalanx against the civil rights bill, and will fight it to the bitter end.

THE mania for President-making has seized The Chicago Journal. It speaks of Gov. John A. Dix as a "true man, a genuine patriot, a practical statesman," for whom the people of the nation have a warm regard, and then asks how this Republican ticket would go for 1876: "John A. Dix, of New York, for President, and Newton Booth, of California, for Vice-President? Are there two better, truer, trustier, or more popular public men in the United States at the present moment? If so, who are they? In order to meet the popular expectation and prove itself worthy of popular faith, that party must, in the next national campaign, select standard bearers, who have proved themselves true men and trustworthy friends of the nation's integrity and best interests. This Gen. Dix and Gov. Booth, representing the far East and the far West, have done. Let their names be kept before the people. They are honorable names, and nowhere to be despised."

PERSONAL.

STONEWALL JACKSON's brother keeps a corner grocery at Memphis.

THE Hon. Schuyler Colfax and family were in Chicago last week on their way to Colorado, where they will remain for the next two months.

"YELLOWHAMMER," who is a white man so far as color is concerned, married an African damsel at Bismarck the other day, whereupon the "boys" tore him from the nuptial couch, and rode him on a rail.

"NO BREATH of suspicion ever sullied the fair fame of Elizabeth Cady Stanton. As the daughter of an eminent jurist, she was trained to a comprehensive knowledge of the law, and was given a more liberal education than was possessed by any other girl in Eastern New York. As a wife and mother she is honored and beloved."

DEAN STANLEY preached to the volunteers at Wimbledon, his subject being David's fight with the giant of Gath. In the course of his sermon the reverend gentleman remarked that what gave such a charm to the Biblical incident from which he took his text was the fact that David, "a young volunteer, sneered at by the regular army, redeemed the honor of his country."

ONE of Mr. Gladstone's greatest mistakes was that he never looked among his younger followers for recruits. He perpetually went to the same old bins for his wine; and the day came when the bins were empty, or when what was found in them was worthless. One of Mr. Disraeli's merits, and one of the secrets of his present popularity, is that he has always kept an eye opened for young and promising men. And this is a lesson to which leaders of parties everywhere need not disdain to pay heed.—New York Times.

PENN, while Governor of Pennsylvania, established by charter a board of fifteen Quakers to have charge of schools in the town and county of Philadelphia. Since that time the board has organized several schools which, once excellent, gradually deteriorated until they are now, with one exception, all closed. With the increasingly large income thus left at the disposal of the board, it was decided some time since to establish one school of high grade, and equip it with all the appliances of modern education. Mr. R. M. Jones, a Maine teacher and a graduate from Harvard, will be at its head.

THERE were six bridesmaids at the marriage of Lady Blanche Somerset, daughter of the Duke of Beaufort, to the Marquis of Waterford. They were: Lady Grace Fane, Miss Florence Codrington, Miss Maude Kingscote, Miss Lovell and Miss Bentinck. The ceremony was performed by the Archbishop of Armagh, Primate of Ireland, assisted by His Grace's chaplain. Lord Charles Beresford was best man. Two hundred and fifty guests were at the wedding breakfast, which was served in a pavilion on the lawn at Badminton. Lord and Lady Waterford left for the Troy House, Monmouthshire, one of the seats of the Duke, where they will spend a portion of the honeymoon.

ITEMS OF INTEREST.

THERE were five hundred and forty-nine persons arrested in Brooklyn during the past week.

BUFFALO has 79 firemen and 443 volunteers. The entire department cost $173,506.65 last year.

IN Brooklyn the authorities "seize the unripe fruit." The policemen eat it and the children are saved.

BROOKLYN has been called the city of churches. Hereafter it may well be styled the city of church scandals.

THE widow of a laborer has just died on the 18th instant in East Place, High street, Norwood, England, from "decay of nature," whose age was stated to be 103 years.

THE Chicago Fire Marshal's report of the fire of July 14 indicates that there was a great lack of water on the occasion, and that where the engines should have had one hundred pounds of water they could only obtain from twenty to sixty pounds.

THE average duration of a life sentence in the prisons of New York, the report of the Prison Association of that State says, is but seven years and one-half. This limit seems to be a very short one, but the statistics actually prove it, the early terminations caused by death, escape or pardon being so frequent as to reduce the average. The average terms of life prisoners who have been pardoned is but six and one-half years.

A SINGULAR circumstance is reported to us by a gentleman from Boonville, who is reliable authority, as having recently occurred in that place. An old hen came off her nest with a brood of brand-new little chickens, having hatched out all her eggs save one, which remained in the nest. The old cat belonging on the premises took possession of the nest and came off with a flock of little cats and a chicken, she having hatched out the remaining egg. The whole family are doing well.

A NEW YORK Herald correspondent at Saratoga says that, on Sunday last, many of the pastors prepared sermons on the regatta. At a church on Main street, a sermon was delivered on the Christian's Regatta toward a heavenly goal. He was described as feathering his oar with precision, turning the stake-boat of life with all the resolution of faith, coming down the desperate course of the home-stretch with vigor, fixing his eye on the heavenly Referee, and taking good care not to imitate the disciple Judas and break his scull.

A CASE of ghastly sentimentality comes from Ripley, Kentucky. A short time ago a gentleman arrived there in a trading boat, accompanied by all his household outfit. Being pleased with the town he decided to locate there and rented a house. When his goods were being removed to the house from the boat, one of the porters, seizing a curiously shaped box, threw it rather carelessly on the dray. One of the gentleman's children cautioned him, saying that it contained the bones of his two little brothers. An inquiry established the fact that the gentleman, who was a restless disposition, and who was constantly on the move, having lost his two children, had a morbid repugnance to burying their remains among strangers. Accordingly, he had a casket made and has carried it with him through all his wanderings.

BALTIMORE's new City Hall is rapidly approaching completion, but it is feared that the furniture of the new building cannot be finished before the beginning of next year. It was hoped that the building would be ready for opening on October 19th, the centennial anniversary of Baltimore's destruction of British teas. That event was one of the most important of the long series which culminated in the Revolution, and it has been too long overshadowed by other demonstrations of America's resistance to tyranny. Baltimore should learn to celebrate the anniversary when her forefathers destroyed the cargo of the Peggy Stewart, and if she cannot get her new hall ready for the centennial celebration, some other plan should be adopted to remind her citizens of the struggles which began one hundred years ago.

THE DRAMA.

MESSRS. CHIZZOLA AND GRAU have succeeded in making an engagement with Mme. Ristori for the coming season.

HERR SEBEWITCKY, husband of Mme. Epsioff, the pianiste, was Rubenstein's successor in the Conservatorie of Music at St. Petersburg.

LYDIA THOMPSON has taken a short lease of the Charing Cross Theatre. The Strand management is going to sue her for breaking an engagement.

BOOTH's theatre in New York rents for $60,000 a year, and as the season is only eight months, the rent is $7,500 per month, or about $300 per night.

BOUCICAULT says American theatres are infinitely superior to those of London or Paris. They are better constructed, better ventilated, and much more cheerful in their inner surroundings.

MATILDA HERON will probably return to the stage, as a noticeable improvement has taken place in her health. She will appear in her old parts of Phædra and Camille. The return of this actress to the stage would certainly be a dramatic sensation and a welcome one.

ALREADY the announcements for the coming dramatic season are made, and the theatre-going public are enjoying the pleasant prospect which is spread out before them. The note of preparation is loudly sounded, on every hand, and if the event is warranted by the manifesto, the Fall and Winter are full of promise.

JOHN BROUGHAM has written a drama, founded on Charles Dickens' story of "Little Dorrit," for Miss Jennie Wallace, one of the Wallace sisters. The dramatization is the result of long and close study. Mr. Brougham said, on its completion, "My writing days are nearly over. It has been my pride to make 'Little Dorrit' the best play I have ever written, and I am almost positive I have succeeded."

MME. PRISTON, says a Paris letter, is about to marry M. Delessart, who played with her and her husband during the last season at Cairo. I told you how her husband fell dead at supper a few weeks since. Actors think, with some dread, that three actors of last season's company at Cairo have already died. Is there an evil influence in Egypt? Poor Blanche d'Antigny received at Marseilles, as she landed coming from Egypt, intelligence of her mother's death. Two days after she reached Paris she was taken with typhoid fever, galloping consumption supervened, and she died. Her death startled Paris, for she was the picture of health, such as Rubens would have delighted to represent.

FASHION NOTES.

BONNETS are much larger, and are worn cornerwise on the head.

ECRU traveling gloves, mottled with black, is the latest fancy.

FIGURED white linen make stylish Gabrielles for afternoon wear.

ONE hundred dollars is the price of a good Chantilly lace sacque.

DRESSMAKERS have found a new fancy in white hernani and sewing silk grenadines.

PINS for the coiffure are in favor. Gilt or steel are worn by brunettes, while blondes prefer jet.

HANGING oats of jet, hanging like fringe, and moving with the slightest motion, is a novelty for trimming.

SEPARATE blouse waists of ecru, gray, or tea colored batiste, continue to be worn by little girls, with any skirt.

The queerest freak of fashion are ruffled handkerchiefs, the edges of the ruffles being scalloped with some delicate color.

WHITE stockings retain their place in general favor, unless it be for country service, when tinted grounds are preferred.

THE newly introduced lace, called Maderia, is said to retain its ecru or color well, carrying it even through the laundry.

RIBBON garnitures of rich seal-skin brown, showing a reversible side of cream white, are among the decided favorites for ecru polonaises.

HUMOROUS.

DON PIATT says shrewdly: Humor is to a newspaper what a tail is to a kite—very absurd, but very necessary to its ascension.

"WHO asked if yer wanted anything?" said a Lowell peddler to a lady who said she did not as soon as she opened the door. "Mind yer peezness, and do'nt refuse to buy till you are asked."

A KANSAS farmer solemnly declares that a grasshopper sat on the gate post and threateningly asked: "William Bryant, where in thunder is the balance of that cold meat?"

OF a lecturer who recently appeared in San Francisco, a reporter of that city says:

"Her feet beneath her petticoat,
Like great big rats, stole in and out,
As if they feared the Cat."

AN ambitious mamma complained to the music master that her daughter was going back in her music. "Why so, madame?" said the Professor. "Because," she replied, "Seraphina tells me that her last piece was in five sharps, and the one she is now learning is only two!"

A PENSIONER living somewhere in Somerset county, Me., was recently heard to give expression to his grievances as follows: "I have been trying for a long time to get an increasement on my diability, but my liars, (meaning lawyers) at Augusta, made my blouchers out wrong and I hain't got a cent of it yet."

IN a Sabbath school class, in which the lesson touched upon the promise of Herod to the daughter of Herodias, the teacher asked whether it was true that Herod was obliged to keep his vow when it would lead to the beheading of John the Baptist. "I guess, if she had asked for his own head, Herod would not have felt himself obliged to keep it," replied a bright boy of ten or twelve.

WILL gentlemen never learn how to manage the mustache? saucily inquires Miss Sparkle. These lip decorators have been long enough in vogue to be understood. But no; after every sip of soup, wine or water, out goes the tongue for the first brush at the mustache, and next follows the napkin sweep. If there is one thing funny in this world it is this constant mustache performance at dinner.

FOREIGN NOTES.

RUSSIA is sending men to Tashkent to teach the people how to cultvate the grape and make wine.

PARIS has 68,000 dogs, and they added to the city income for 1873 the sum of 635,000 francs, or $127,000 This would not be a large sum in Greens hands, but think how it would keep down the number of dogs. All our comforts and luxuries are taxed; why not tax nuisances?

PUBLIC investigation in France shows that infants "nursed out" in that country are nursed out of the world at the rate of eighty-two to eighty-seven in a hundred The implements used in the slaughter is an ordinary baby's bottle which the "farmers" scrupulously avoid washing.

A CORRESPONDENT of the American Register says: "Let me give a word of advice to young tourists: 'Do the first castle you come to in Europe thoroughly, and keep out of all others, for this castle business is like the circus—the first one seen is the only one ever appreciated, one being an exact reproduction of the others."

AT Limbourg, near Verviers, Belgium, M. David, an honest man and a good citizen, died and was buried as he desired, civily—that is, without a priest. Next Sunday the priest indulged in severe observations from the pulpit and the subject became a painful scandal. On still another Sunday the priest repeated his extravagant language, and when the services were over the son of the defunct horsewhipped his reverence in the public street amid general applause.

SOME curious individual has spent some time in getting up the statistics of the rats in Paris, and has recently given the result of his labor to the public. He calculates that there exists between two and three millions of rats in that city, and that seventeen hundred thousand are slain annually by the professional rat-killers of the city, or perish from poison administered by private hands. He computes that one hundred thousand die annually from natural causes.

Latest Advices Concerning Money and Stock Matters.

Our banks still report only a moderate demand for money; but nearly all of them notice a slight increase in business from day to day. The ruling of the home markets offers but little that is new or interesting, the promises and expectations of an early improvement continuing or assuming as heretofore, so far as the crops are concerned, the revival of these industrial pursuits partially reached by the panic last year seems to be going on steadily and surely. To what extent a full recovery and abundant harvest will affect the future course of the market it is idle to hazard a conjecture at this time. Opinions, however, still agree in the confident expectation of a sound, active fall business in most, if not in all, departments of trade. Manufacturers are slowly but surely recovering from the depression of the past year, and they will doubtless be restored to a healthy activity with other branches of trade. There is no material change in the rates of discount at the banks for regular customers, neither is there anything noticeable in the condition of the stock market. Real estate is decidedly quiet at present, and like other branches of trade it must bide its time, but that an upward turn will come we believe is as certain as any business event in the future.

Among the other reasons assigned for the advance in the Bank of England discount rate, is that it was brought about by the contemplated operation of the Rothschild-Seligman syndicate, which recently assumed the negotiation of the remaining 5 per cent. United States funding bonds; and when it is remembered that at the time the contract between the Treasury and this syndicate was signed the Bank rate was 2½ per cent., this view of the case might seem superficially correct. But when it is understood that the Bank of France gained, in the week, 23,307,000 francs, there is less ground for assuming the first reason to have been the ruling one. In addition to the home drain of bullion from London for moving the crops now about commencing, the movement of coin to Paris was instrumental in necessitating the change. The political aspect doubtless had much to do with it, and a concurrence of the three causes resulted in the precautionary step.

Reports in regard to the revival of trade and the steady recovery of the great industries from the depression of the panic are assuring. As in point, the shoe trade, which at Lynn, Mass., shows shipments for the week ending on the 5th inst., of 3,915 cases, against 3,829 cases for corresponding week last year. The shipments from the Boston market also show an increase, and are some 20,000 cases more than for the month of July last year. The shipments from Haverhill for the week have been 3,140 cases, against 3,098 cases for the corresponding week last year.

That intelligent old merchant, Stephen Girard, made this observation, which may be pondered by young merchants: "During my long commercial experience I have noticed that no advantages result from telling one's business to others, except to create jealousy or competition when we are fortunate, and to gratify our enemies when otherwise." He was never known to disregard this theory.

NEW YORK, August 10, 1874.

Money, 2@2½ per cent.; mercantile paper scarce. The customs receipts were $505,000. Sterling was quiet at 486½@487 for 60 days, and 490@490½ for sight. Gold was heavy; the highest price of the day was 110, closing at 109⅞. The carrying rates were 1@2. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $133,000. The clearings were $22,000,000. Governments, railroad and State bonds were dull. Stocks opened steady, and afterwards became moderately active and firm, with the chief interest in Pacific Mail, Western Union, Lake Shore and Union Pacific. After the first board the market was dull and weak, and closed at the lowest point of the day. The decline at the close was based on telegrams from Madison, Wis., giving it as the opinion of some of the lawyers in the railroad case that the Court would grant the injunction asked for. Among the sales to-day were 10,000 shares Western Union, 15,000 Pacific Mail, 8,000 Lake Shore, and 10,000 Union Pacific.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS—WEEKLY REVIEW.

General business was moderately active during the past week, and while there is plenty of room for improvement, and there is considerable complaining, we have reason to believe that it is not much behind what it usually is at this season of the year. Furthermore, now that harvesting is over, we look for a steady improvement in trade; country merchants, who, it is evident from the fact that they have been purchasing very sparingly ever since the panic, will have to replenish their very light stocks, hence there is reason to expect an increased inquiry for the leading staples, and there is no reason apparent at this writing why these expectations should not be realized. Some observant and well informed people are apprehensive that business is not likely to be as good as generally expected this fall and winter, but with good crops, an easy money market and stocks of goods both in first and second hands very much reduced, we can see no good reason for their evil forebodings, and it is to be sincerely desired that they will not be realized. In regard to values, there have not been many changes since the date of our last weekly review. The hog product is very stiff and Lard and Mess Pork have gone still higher; Sugars have advanced slightly; Oats and Corn higher; Eggs lower, Hay ditto.

APPLES—The arrivals continue meagre, but the supply is still in excess of present requirements and prices are no better, ranging from $1.50@2.50 ℔ bbl. as to quality.

ASHES—There is rather more inquiry, but trade continues quiet, while as regards prices, there has been no quotable change for some time. Common Soda Ash, 3¼; refined do 4½; Pearls 8; Potash, 8¼; Nitrate Soda, 4; Arsenic, 5.

ALE—There is no change to note in rates and manufacturers generally report that business has been very unsatisfactory during the past year, that the rates afforded no margin for profit, that while the cost of manufacture was largely increased, there was no advance made in the product.

BEANS—The inquiry continues light, as it nearly always is at this season, but with light stocks and very limited receipts, prices are still maintained: $2.25@2.50 for mediums and $2.75 for choice navies.

BAGGING—Penn Mill two bushel bags, 35c two and one-half bushel, 42; three bushel, 50.

BROOMS—No. 2, $2.25@2.50 ℔ dozen; No. 3, $2.50@2.75; No. 4, $3@3.25; No. 5, $3.25@3.50, No. 6, $3.50@3.75. Carpet Brooms, $4@4.25. Whisps, $1.50@1.75.

BROOM CORN—While the demand has not improved much since the date of our last weekly review, the reports that the crop is likely to be short one has stiffened up the market considerably, and holders generally are predicting an advance; however, while the indications just now point to a higher range of prices, it does not follow that they will be realized. Broom manufacturing is reported as having been very unsatisfactory recently, in consequence of an over production, and the probability is that the demand for Corn will be somewhat curtailed this fall and winter.

BUTTER—There has been a very fair demand during the past week, especially for the better grades, but while the market is reported steady, the supply is fully equal to the demand and prices remain about the same as those quoted in our last review: prime to choice, 23@25c; medium to good, 15@20; common, 8@12. We look for a better trade from this on, as the consumption always increases when the weather commences to grow cooler.

BEESWAX—There appears to be no inquiry, at least we never hear the article named, and, consequently, it is difficult to give quotations; it is supposed to be worth about 27@30c ℔ ℔. The arrivals for some time past have been very meagre, and it is evident, therefore, that the supply cannot be large.

BERRIES—Blackberries are selling at $4.50@5.50 ℔ stand of two bushels. Whortle Berries, $1.25@1.50 ℔ bucket.

CEMENT AND LIME—Following are the current rates: Cement—Youghiogheny, $2@2.50 ℔ barrel; Louisville, $2@2.50; Phoenix, $2@2.25; Rosendale, $3.75@4.00; Portland, $8@8.50. Plaster—French's Selected, $4@4.50; New York (Mills & Co.) $3.75@4; Michigan, $1.50@3.75; Nova Scotia, $3.25@3.50. White Sand, $1.75@2. Lime—Cleveland, $2@2.25; Fremont and Sandusky, $1.75@2; McMonagle's Lime, $1.75@2; Sawyer's, $1.75@2.

COPPER—Following are the card rates, cash as reported by Park & Co.: Braziers' Copper, 13 ℔. sheets and upward, 35c. Braziers' Copper, 10, 11 and 12 ℔. sheets, 38c. Braziers' Copper, 9 ℔. and less, 41c. Circles: under 84 in. diameter, 38c. Circles, 84 in diameter and over, 41c. Segment and Pattern Sheets, 38c; Sheathing Copper, 14 in. by 48 in., 33c. Bolt Copper.

COTTON, SHEETING AND YARNS.—Penn Mill A No. 1.4-4 Sheeting, 11c; Nonatook, 10½c; Pittsburgh Family, 10c; Juniata, B. fine, 9½c; White Carpet Chain fine, 31c Colored, 38c. Cotton Batting, 16; Cotton Twine, 31.

CRACKERS—Water, 7. N. Y. Water, 7. Oysters, 6½@7. Soda, 7. Soda Extra, 9½. Butter, 7. Boston Extra, 9. Scotch Biscuits, 11½. Ginger Snaps, 11. Hard Times, 10. Graham, 7.

CORDAGE & ROPE—Manilla rope, ¾ inch in diameter and upwards, 15½ cents, ⅝, 17c; ½, and 5-16, 17½c tarred rope and lath yarn, 16c and hay and leather twine, 17. Sisal rope—¾ and 5-16 in. diameter 13c, ¾, 15; ⅜ in. and upwards, 13½; hay and spoke twine, 13½. Oil well drilling cables—hawser laid, 16½c do. bolt rope and yarn, 18c Sand pump rope, 16½.

CHEESE—The market for Ohio Factory has stiffened up very materially since the date of our last weekly report, and we advance our quotations half a cent ℔ ℔, 13@13½; furthermore, as the arrivals have fallen off considerably, the supply here is comparatively light. Dairy Cheese, to use a common phrase, is about played out in this market—there is very little coming in and scarcely any call for it. Ohio Sweitzer is quoted at 16@18, as to quality.

CANNED GOODS—There is little or no movement in this class of goods just now except that the wholesale trade are contracting with manufacturers for next year's supply; the consumptive demand is always very meagre at this season of the year, when the markets are full of fresh fruits and vegetables.

COKE—There has been no actual improvement as yet but manufacturers are hopeful that there will soon be. Prices nominally unchanged at $2.75@3 ℔ ton, delivered free on cars in Pittsburgh.

DRIED FRUIT—There is no demand whatever—there never is at this season of the year, hence there are no established rates.

EGGS—The market has been exceedingly dull during the week which has closed, and, notwithstanding the arrivals were by no means large, the supply accumulated, and with holders all anxious to realize, prices have further declined; we now quote at 12@13c ℔ doz.

FLOUR—There is a fair local trade, and the market is steady, with no change whatever to note in prices: Spring wheat flours, $6.75@7 for Wisconsins; and $7.25@7.50 for Minnesotas; and $6.5@7 for red winters. Fancy brands, $9@10. As will be observed, Spring wheat flour is still at a premium of from 25@50c ℔ bbl over winters, especially Minnesotas, but it is not probable that this difference will hold out much longer; either the former will have to decline or the latter advance; which it will be, it is impossible at this writing to say, but the probability is that Springs will have to take the back track. Rye Flour is quiet and unchanged at $5.75@6.

GRAIN—There has been a fair degree of activity during the past week, and as the supply of Oats and Ear Corn has been inadequate to meet the demand, prices have been advanced. Wheat continues quiet and unchanged—there is but little coming forward, excepting what is consigned to the mills; however, there is not much inquiry, and, besides, dealers say that there is no margin for profit at quoted rates—$1.20@1.25 for new red and $1.25@1.30 for old, according to quality—white, 5 to 8 cents ℔ bushel additional, according to quality. Some dealers appear to be impressed with the belief that prices have touched bottom in this market, while others take a different view of the situation; and none, so far as we can learn, have sufficient confidence in the market to invest their money in it except to supply immediate requirements. The Oat market, as already intimated, has been very firm and as the supply was unequal to the demand, a sharp advance was established: new crop, on spot, are being sold at 68@70c, while at the same time offerers are making to sell, to arrive, at 7 to 10c ℔ bushel less. Present prices, it is not likely, will be sustained any length of time, although as the crop was light, there is not much doubt but what prices will be considerably higher next year than they were during the one which has just closed. Ear Corn continues scarce and there is considerable inquiry for it, the consumption having been increased by the enhanced cost of Oats—the former being much cheaper for feeding, and prices are higher—we now quote 83@85. Shelled Corn is also fairly active but unchanged: quotable at 80@82c. Rye is quiet and nominal at $1. As yet there has been so little done in Barley that there are no established rates.

GROCERIES—Coffee—In order to stimulate business, holders of Rio on the seaboard decided to accept a concession of ½c ℔ ℔, at the close of last week, which resulted in the sale of about 10,000 bags on private terms. Mild Coffees were steady and active. A cargo of New Crop arrived last week at Baltimore, exhibiting better grades than have been coming forward lately. The market may be quoted steady; stocks accumulating in New York and Baltimore, but very low down all over the west. Sugars are off ⅛c for refined with no diminution in the values of raws. It is thought, however, that a reaction will occur with more business. Rice strong, and all markets show low stocks of Carolina at advancing figures. Syrups and Molasses in good request at decidedly firm prices.

SPICES—Grain Pepper, 28 cents; Grain Allspice, 20 cents; whole Cloves, 55 cents; Cassia, 40c; Nutmegs, $1.40; Ground spices in 6 pound cans—White Pepper, 55c; African Cayenne 45c; Cinnamon, pure, 55c; Cloves, 60c; Ginger, 30c; Allspice, 25c; Cream Tartar, 5 and 10 pound cans, pure, 40; Ground Pepper in tin foil packages, 31@32c.

CANDLES—Mould Candles, 11c; Stearine, 14c; Star do., 19.

FISH—Following are the ruling quotations: No. 1 Mess mackerel, shore, $27.00 ℔ barrel. Extra do, $30. Extra No. 1, $28. No 1 do, $20. No. 1 bay, $20. Labrador Herring $8. Round Herring, $7. Whitefish, $7 ℔ half bbl. Lake Herring, $5.50 per half barrel. No 3 mackerel, $10.50 per barrel. No. 2 do, $12 per barrel.

SOAPS—Babbitt's soap, 10; Bell's Buffalo Soap, $6.50 per box; Procter & Gamble's German, 7½; Extra wax, 7c; Superior, 6c; Woman's Friend, 5.50; Old Rosin, 5c; Scrubbing, 4c.

SUNDRIES—Prunes, 13 cents; Valencia Raisins, 13½c; ℔ ℔; Layer Raisins, $3.50 ℔ box; Currants 7½c; Concentrated Lye, $7.75; Bicarb Soda, kegs, 7c; boxes in packages, 8@8½c; Sal Soda, 3½; Banner Baking Powder, ¼ ℔ cans, $1.50 ℔ dozen; ½ do, $3.00. Royal, ¼ ℔ cans, $1.50; do, $3 ℔ dozen. Bar Lead, 10c; Drop Shot, $1.50 ℔ bag; Buck Shot, $3. Wheeling Tobies, $10.50 ℔ thousand. Salt, ℔ bbl. in store, $1.75. Oat Meal, per barrel, $9.00; in ½ do $5; Pearl Barley, 8½@8¾c ℔ ℔.

SUGARS—Patent Cut Loaf, 13; Granulated, 11½c. Crushed, 11¾; Powdered, 11¾; Standard A, 11; B, 10¾; Ex. C, 10¾; Franklin Extra C, 10; American Extra C, 9¾. Yellow Sugars, 7⅞ to 9 cents.

COFFEE—Choice Rio, 23; prime, 25; good, 24. Roasted, 28c for 1 pound packages; loose, 27½c; Old Government Java 30c; Roasted, 40c.

MOLASSES—Strictly prime New Orleans, 90c; prime, 85c; good, 80c; common, 75c; Porto Rico, 70@75c.

SYRUPS—Fancy White Drips, $1.00@1.20; White Drips, 75; Extra Sugar Drips, 60 to 70c; Amber, 60@65; Molasses Syrups, 35 to 50, as to quality.

RICE—Best Carolina, 9¾; good, 9½; Rangoon, 7¾@8c; Patna, 8½c.

HIDES—The market is quiet. The trade, owing to recent failures of country tanners, are exercising more caution in crediting and are more willing to make concessions for cash than formerly. The demand is chiefly confined to No. 1 Heavy Steers and light cows. We quote: Green Salted Cows, 9c per pound; Green Salted Steers—light, 9½c Green Salted Steers—heavy—10c; Green Salted Calf, 14c; Green Butcher Bull—5; Green Butcher Cows, 6c; Green Butcher Steers—light, 7c, Green Butcher Steers—heavy—8c.

HAY—The market for baled has been very dull during the past week with more offering than is wanted, notwithstanding the arrivals were only fair, while prices although weaker remain unchanged, ranging, on wharf and track, from $20@23 ℔ ton, according to quality and condition. Loose is selling from country wagons at $20 to $28.

LEATHER—The general condition of the Leather market at this point may be reported dull, in some respects, however, the condition of trade is more encouraging, and lively hopes are entertained by not a few that we shall have a good fall demand—particularly for the better grades of stock. We quote: Oak Sole Country—per pound 31 to 37c; Oak Sole—city, 38 to 42; Red Sole, B. A. heavy and med, 32 to 33; Red Sole, Oronoco, 29 to 31; Red Sole, good dgd, 26 to 28c; Oak Rough, 33 to 36c; Harness city oak, per ℔ 40 to 4; Harness country, 37 to 40c; Harness No. 2 and common, 33 to 35c; Fair Skirting—℔ ℔, 44 to 45c. Fair Bridle, per dozen, $60 a 75; Belt Leather—℔ ℔, 40 to 46c; Finished calf—℔ pound, $1.10 to 1.40; Finished Upper, per foot, 20 to 25c; Finished Kip—℔ ℔, 80 to 90c.

MILL FEED—Is in light supply, and there is some inquiry; it appears that the improvements in mill machinery have been made to such an extent that there is not near so much offal, hence prices are on the well sustained. Bran may be quoted at 95@$1 ℔ cwt. and Middlings at $1.35@1.55 as to quality. Our market is entirely bare of Oil Meal.

OILS—Lard Oil continues very firm and prices have still further advanced in sympathy with the raw material: No 1 may now be quoted at 18@$1 and No 2 at 75@78. Linseed oil quiet and unchanged: 97@1.03. Carbon Oil, 10@10½c by the car load, and 1@2 cts additional for smaller lots.

SEEDS—Clover Seed is in light supply, and the crop is said to have been considerably below an average this year, having been effected by the drouth; however, there is little or nothing doing in it just now, and consequently there are no established rates. Timothy Seed has been in steady demand for some time past, and we can report regular sales at $3.50@3.75 ℔ bushel. No movement in Flax Seed—there is none offering.

TALLOW—Is in light supply and fair demand, but prices have undergone no change: 6½@7c ℔ ℔.

RAGS—The market is quiet and prices unchanged; woolen, half a cent ℔ ℔. Cotton, 2½@3 cts.

POTATOES—Steady, with regular sales of fresh receipts at $4.50@4 ℔ bbl, according to quality.

PEACHES—Selling at $2.00@3 ℔ box.

POULTRY—Live Chickens quotable all the way from 50 to 75 cents per pair, according to size.

PAPERS—Baling papers 4@8c ℔ lb, as to quality: manilla 7@12c; hardware paper 6@12c; bag wrapping 4½@5½c; felt papers 4@4½c straw, news, 4½@6c; rag, news, 12½@13c; book papers 15@18c ℔ ℔.

PAINTS—Following are the current rates: Brandon Yellow, 2@3 cents. Blue Prussian, @70c. Blue Ultramarine, 25@45c. Green Chromo 14@18. Green Paris, 30@50c. Green Verditter 17@20c. Green Versailles, 22@26c. Lamp Black, 7@8c. Lamp Black Germantown, 13@15c. Metallic Paints, 4@6c. Mineral Paints, 2@2½. Spanish Brown, 1½@2½c. Venetian Red American, 2@3½c. Venetian Red, English 4@4½c.

PROVISIONS—Lard—Sixty days ago we predicted in this column that Lard would reach 14c ℔ ℔ before October; our prediction is more than verified already, Lard having gone up to 15c in Chicago and Cincinnati, the largest stock being held by the "ring" in the former and by Procter & Gamble in the latter city. We also said when Lard Oil was 83 that it would go to $1 if not over. Our prediction in this case is also verified. We now say that prices will be no lower for the next 10 days, and that the statistics in our possession point to still higher prices. The whole hog product is strong and active. Following are the ruling rates: Hams—Extra Sugar Cured, per pound, 16½; Shoulders—Extra Sugar Cured 11; Breakfast Bacon—Sugar Cured, 14½; Dried Beef—Ex. Sugar Cured, 18. Bacon—Shoulders, 10½ ℔ lb.; Short Rib Sides, 13; Clear Sides, 13½ Mess Pork, ℔ bbl, $25.50; Lard—Ref'nd for summer use in trcs, 15½; hlf brls, 15¾; bkts, 16¼; 3 lb caddies, 16½; 5 lb. do, 16½. 3 lb. pails, 17¼; 5 lb. do, 17.

WOODEN WARE—Two hoop Pails, $2.30 three hoop do, $2.65. No. 1 three hoop tubs, $10.50. No. 2, two hoop Tubs, $9.00. No. 3, two hoop tubs, $8.50. Plain Wash boards, per dozen $2.50. Diamond Crimp, $2.75.

WHITE LEAD—Is quoted at 10½c for strictly pure, in ton lots, and 11 cents in a jobbing way. In tin packages one half to one cent ℔ pound additional.

WINDOW GLASS—Trade, while it is quiet, is about all it usually is at this season of the year, but a good fall trade is expected. No change in the card or discounts. We continue to quote at 60 to 65 ℔ cent off Pittsburgh list. There is no abatement in the demand for fruit jars, and manufacturers report that, although working up to their full capacity, they are unable to keep up with their orders.

ALLEGHENY LIVE STOCK MARKET.

ALLEGHENY CITY STOCK YARDS, MONDAY, August 10, 1874.

CATTLE.

The number on sale to-day was the largest we have had to record for several months, footing up 1,022 head; of these, according to the reports made to our reporter, 332 head were driven in from the adjoining country; 3 cars were brought over from the Central Yards, 11 cars from Chicago, while the balance, with the exception of two cars from Indiana, were from various parts of Ohio. The average quality was very common: we do not believe there were over 100 head of what could be called prime beeves on sale, hence as the supply was unequal to the demand, the market for this particular grade was strong, and the entire number was picked up early in the day, and that, too, at very full prices. Of common and medium cattle, however, there was an oversupply, and dealers nearly all quoted a decline of from 25 to 50c ℔ cwt, and notwithstanding the shrinkage in prices, together with the fact that owners, almost without an exception were anxious to close out, there were some left over unsold. The regular dealers, who have a number of advantages not possessed by outsiders, no doubt made a little money as they generally do; but transient dealers lost money; some of them, it is said, a good deal of it. We have not much doubt but what there were cattle sold here to day which lost freight and expenses for their owners, to say nothing about shrinkage, which is always heavy at this season of the year. Extra Beeves, of which the supply was very meagre, may be quoted at 7@7¼; good to prime, 6¼@6¾; fair, 5½@6; common to medium, 4½@5½. Toward the close of the market there were some very decent cattle sold at 4 to 4¾—owners being determined to close out. Stockers quotable at from 3 to 4c. Bulls, 2¾@3¾, and while the supply was small it was fully up to the demand—butchers don't want many bulls at this season of the year. The market, with the exception of strictly prime cattle, was very unsatisfactory to the selling interest, it was without doubt, one of the worst for low grade stock that we have had this season.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

The market was again overstocked to-day, and, notwithstanding butchers generally bought pretty freely, prices ruled low, especially toward the close, as there were a great many broken lots, the owners of which were willing to accept almost any price they could obtain, but, nevertheless, there was a large number left over unsold. All the best Lambs, as is generally the case, were picked up early in the day at pretty full rates, say $3@3.50 ℔ head, with some few extra ones at $3¾@4, but near the close there were some very good Lambs disposed of at $2@2½, and sales were made from that down to $1.50. Prime fat sheep quotable at 5¼@5¾ ℔ ℔; medium to good 4½@5; stockers $3@3 ℔ head, as to quality.

HOGS.

The supply was again light, although the hot weather curtailed the demand, as it always does, and besides, butchers are taking hold sparingly in consequence of the high rates which are now prevailing. Good to prime corn fed hogs may be quoted at 7@7¾, gross, and the market is firmer than it was this day week.

FRESH COWS

The number on sale was unusually light, footing up 7 head, and as usual they were mostly common in point of quality. Quotation may be fairly given at $25@50 for common to prime—it requires something extra to bring more than $50.

VEAL CALVES.

The market continues quiet and prices remain unchanged, ranging from 5@6c ℔ ℔, according to quality.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 10, 1874.

The Crude market continues quiet but steady at 93¾@95 for immediate shipment, notwithstanding the product has taken the back track again. Producers and sellers generally appear to be hopeful of being able to sustain prices, and it must be conceded that they are succeeding beyond the expectations of our refiners, some of whom expected to be able to buy before this at 70@75, which is about all they can afford to pay, taking the price of the product into consideration. As already intimated, the refined continues dull, and prices have declined ⅛c ℔ gallon within the past few days; quotations may be fairly given at 12c, delivered in Philadelphia, equal to 9⅝@9½ on cars here.

Oil barrels continue very dull, and prices are weaker: countries, $1.40 city make, $1.50@1.55—sales on Saturday at $1.50.

PITTSBURGH WOOL MARKET.

The Wool market remains unchanged since our last report. We hear of but few transactions and these at somewhat lower prices—local dealers, as well as Eastern dealers and manufacturers have all secured about as much Wool as they wish for the present, and prefer waiting awhile to see if the fall trade in Wool and woolens shall warrant better prices. If not the balance of the clip in the hands of growers will not find purchasers unless at lower prices. We quote prices:

GEORGE H. ROHE,
Observer, Signal Service, U. S. A.

The river was still swelling last evening, with 5 feet 10½ inches by the marks. The Allegheny was falling at Oil City, while the Monongahela was reported rising at head waters. Cloudy and warm, with every indication of more rain.

The towboats Hornet, Wm Stone, Storm and Tom Lysle arrived, and the following are en route, and will no doubt arrive on this water: My Choice, Coal Valley, Lake Erie, Joe Walton, Nellie Walton and J. C. Risher.

The fine passenger steamer Exchange, as will be seen by card, is announced for Cincinnati forthwith.

The Mollie Ebert arrived at Cincinnati on Sunday, and the Fearless passed by the same day en route for St. Louis.

—Yesterday's Cincinnati "Gazette" says:—The Esperanza arrived from Pittsburgh some time during Saturday night, with a barge in tow, having left Pittsburgh a week before. She had for re-shipment 150 tons for Louisville, 40 tons for New Orleans, about the same for Memphis, and 10 or 12 tons for the lower Ohio.—The Mollie Ebert arrived from Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon with an excellent trip. She reships fifty tons on the U S Mail Line for Aurora and Louisville, and has thirty or forty tons for St. Louis, 200 boxes of bitters, and a lot of glassware for New Orleans, and a small lot of freight for Memphis.—The Fearless, which left Pittsburgh Saturday, August 1, arrived here last evening with three barges of Pittsburgh manufactures and one barge of brick. She will discharge some freight here, and leave for St. Louis to-day, after adding to her tow two barges of coke. Pilots, Wm. Randolph and Geo. W. Clark.—Looking over our files, we find this coincidence, viz: The Pat. Rogers burned August 5, 1874, just eight years after the Gen. Lytle's boiler exploded, which happened August 5, 1866.—The "Commercial" says:—The Mollie Ebert is advertised to return to Pittsburgh this evening, and the Esperanza to-morrow.—James Rees, Jr., of the Exporter, has returned from Pittsburgh.

—A correspondent writes as follows from Bismarck, under date of Aug. 3: The river is still falling. Boating is getting to be an up hill business. The Far West arrived on the 31st ult., from Yankton; distributed along the different posts 230 tons; had when she arrived here 96 tons for Stevenson & Buford; she filled up with all the Buford freight that was here, 91 tons, and near 50 tons for Stevenson, making 237 tons, and say 12 passengers, among them E. G. Maclay, of the Diamond R Line, who has been to St. Paul on business. Also, the Fontenelle left Saturday for Carroll with fair trip, Capt. Dan. Matatta in command, the old veteran, Capt. Jas. P. Clarke having resigned and gone to St. Louis. The Peninah and Western are due from above, and are expected daily. The grangers are busy cutting and putting up hay. Nothing of late from Custer's expedition. Yesterday we had a good rain and lots of thunder and lightning.

—A St. Louis special to Cincinnati "Commercial" gives the following particulars in regard to the Ames disaster: The Henry Ames, which sunk at Waterproof, in the Lower Mississippi, last night, was owned here by the Henry Ames Transportation Company, and insured in Cincinnati and Wheeling offices for $25,000, including $5,000 on her freight list. Her bar belonged to Wolff & Hynes, and was insured for $5,000. The Ames was recently sold at Marshal's sale for $15,000, and purchased by N. Springer and Boylan & Getty, who turned her into the Transportation Company. Three lives were lost, but their names are not given. She was running in the Consolidated Line. The Henry Ames was bound from St. Louis to New Orleans, with a full cargo, and struck a snag near Waterproof. She went down in 25 feet of water. The Henry C. Yaeger was alongside the sunken steamer at last accounts.

—St. Louis advices under date of Saturday report as follows: Business rather dull for Saturday. The John Kyle got away for New Orleans, drawing 6 feet, and the Atlantic and barges had 1,800 tons. The Consolidated Line has no tonnage. The Susie Silver, which was to load after the Kyle has gone on the docks for repairs. There are plenty of boats here but they will not budge for less than 50c for flour. The Kountz and Barge Lines will have things their own way for a few days. They are taking flour at 35 cents and pound freight at 17½c. The Keokuk boat came in several hours behind time owing to the low water.

—An Ironton dispatch says: Latest reports from the wreck of the Sam Roberts say that the missing man's body was found in the rubbish of the wreck badly burned, making five killed, and David Williamson, pilot, so badly injured that he cannot recover.

—Up to Saturday night sixty bodies of victims of the Pat Rogers disaster had been recovered, according to a dispatch from Rising Sun.

HOME NEWS.

Allegheny City Property.

The Committee on City Property of Allegheny Councils met last evening and approved bills to the amount of twelve hundred dollars. A resolution was adopted to the effect that hereafter nothing will be paid for by the committee unless ordered by them. The contract for placing heating apparatus in the City Building was not awarded, as two members of the committee have not yet recorded their votes, although the Blake apparatus already has a majority of the votes of the committee.

Sudden Death.

Coroner McCallin yesterday held an inquest on the body of Frank Cook who was taken sick on Sunday night while working in Wainwright's Brewery, and shortly afterwards died. Dr. Robinson made a superficial examination, and found that the man had died in an epileptic fit, brought about by exposure. It was ascertained that he was subject to these fits, and the jury rendered a verdict accordingly. The man was forty years of age, single, and boarded in the neighborhood of the Brewery.

Bill in Equity.

In the District Court yesterday Jestine Weigley filed a bill in equity against John Miller and John Debenhart. The plaintiff in her bill sets forth that she is the owner of 7 acres and 78½ perches of land on Pine creek, Shaler township. A part of this land abuts on the creek, and she alleges that Miller has without authority, given Debenhart permission to erect a dam, and that he (Debenhart) has already commenced to erect the structure. This will cause the waters of the creek to overflow her lands whenever that stream is high. She therefore asks for a preliminary injunction, and afterwards a permanent injunction. The Judge granted the preliminary injunction prayed for.

Walked Out of the Window.

About one o'clock yesterday morning a man named John Henderson, who resides on Rebecca street, opposite the Gas Works, in Allegheny, got up out of his bed in the second story of his house, sound asleep, and walked out of the window and alighted on his feet in the yard below, receiving a severe wound in one of his feet, and then walked to the rear of the yard, when he was awakened by one of the members of his family calling him by name. He was very much astonished at finding himself where he was, and at once went back into the house and summoned a physician to dress his injured foot. Yesterday he was confined to his bed all day.

Alleged Robbery.

Last evening Mrs. Gruber, whose husband keeps a tavern on Liberty street, visited the Mayor's office and made an information against Henry Lynch and another person for robbery. She alleged that Lynch who runs a ten pin alley in her husband's establishment, and a man who had been employed as bar-tender, a few evenings since stole from behind the counter $300 in money and a gold watch valued at $120. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the parties and about 10 o'clock Officer Andy Cronin arrested Lynch and took him to the lock-up. The other party has not yet been arrested. Lynch will have a hearing this morning before the Acting Mayor.

Convict Badly Cut.

One of the convicts in the Western Penitentiary met with quite a severe accident on Sunday evening. About eight o'clock he was engaged in shaving himself, it is said, when he tripped on an obstruction and falling to the floor was badly cut by the razor several times. The largest wound commences at the elbow joint of the left arm and running half way round the arm terminates at the hand on the inside of the wrist. The flesh is cut clean to the bone and two large arteries barely escaped being severed. One of the fingers of the left hand is cut, and three wounds were inflicted on the right arm. Dr. W. W. Cole was immediately summoned and dressed the injuries.

Cutting Affray.

Yesterday afternoon two men named D. Gallagher and Patrick Carns became involved in a difficulty in what is known as the "Half-way House," on the hill. After quarreling for some time, Carns drew a large clasp knife, and made a very determined attack upon his antagonist. The result was that Gallagher was badly cut about the forehead, cheek, and on the hand. Officers McIlwaine and A. Kennedy, hearing the disturbance, proceeded to the house named. McIlwaine arrested Gallagher, but as soon as Carns saw the policemen he ran to the upper part of the house and hid under a bed. Officer Kennedy, however, found him in his place of concealment, and both men were placed in the cells at the Central station house.

The "Peerless Club."

The "Peerless Club," composed of young men from Allegheny City, leave Wednesday morning for the beautiful camping ground at the junction of the Connoquenessing and Beaver creeks, where they will pitch their tents for a couple of weeks. The following gentleman compose the club: W. W. Martin, Pres., Alex. Martin, Vice Pres., Theo. Sproul, Sec'y, James H. Taylor, Treas., C. A. Herbert, F. M. Hazlett, R. A. Balph, French Evans, W. E. Cameron, George Webber, Authur Kimmell, Lem Davidson, Frank Boal. The club have been fortunate enough to secure the services of the noted cook, Mr. Benjamin Vaughn, and from the numerous articles on the provision list, it is evident the "Peerless" young men intend to live, as well as have a jolly time while in camp.

Allegheny Water Affairs.

The Water Committee of Allegheny Councils met last evening and adopted a resolution recommending that a six-inch water main be laid on Sarah street. Nine fire plugs were ordered to be placed at different points. The water tax of several parties in the Butcher's run district was ordered to be canceled by the committee. Our readers will remember that some weeks ago a special committee was appointed by Pittsburgh Councils to confer with a like committee from Allegheny Councils in regard to laying water pipes across the bridges between the two cities, to connect the water mains of both cities, so that at any time one city can assist the other in case of a short supply of water, or in an event of fire. Messrs. McNeill, Brown and Peters were appointed on behalf of Allegheny Councils last evening.

The monthly pay-roll, amounting to $2,164 37 and bills to the amount of $4,000 were approved. Adjourned.

Base Ball.

A very spirited match game of base ball came off at Union Park yesterday afternoon, between the "Xantha" club of Allegheny and the "Braddock" of Braddocks Field. This was the first of a series of games for the championship of Western Pennsylvania, and the first has resulted in the defeat of the Braddock Club, by a score of 23 to 14.

The afternoon was most auspicious for the sport, and the match was witnessed with exciting interest by a large crowd of spectators. Mr. Keenan of the Xantha, as first baseman, did excellent work, and the fine fielding and general playing of Messrs. Miller and McKelvy of the Braddock was particularly worthy of mention.

The return game will come off on the Braddock grounds at some near date, and is looked forward to with much interest.

Complaints.

A Tidioute correspondent complains that at that considerable town, which is situate on the Allegheny river and also what is called the River Division on the railroad from Oil City to Irvineton, they have to travel on freight trains with cabooses attached. There is but one passenger train a day, at 4:15 P. M., and this does not connect with trains for Warren, the county seat, where the Tidioutans go for law and justice.

A freight train passes up at Tidioute at 10:22 A. M., which was ordered to stop at Tidioute for passengers, but the conductors, on the pretext that the train is too heavy—all bosh—pass the station without stopping. We think the higher authorities of the road cannot know of or approve of such delinquencies, and we persuade ourselves that better arrangements will be effected without delay. The company cannot afford to ignore the wishes of a community so large with a business as important as that of Tidioute and the several other stations on this division.

DISGRACEFUL SCENES.

The Crusaders Stoned With Rotten Eggs—Inefficiency of the Police.

The crusaders visited the Ninth Ward market house and organized a temperance meeting, with Mrs. Allen acting as president. As soon as the opening hymn was sung the residents in the neighborhood of the market house began to swarm into the building, and soon filled it to overflowing. A more disorderly crowd was never gathered in this city. Mrs. Van Horn, Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Gilchrist attempted to deliver addresses, but no sooner did they commence their remarks than their voices were drowned by yells, hoots and cat-calls, and a perfect pandemonium was raised. Amidst the confusion a shower of rotten eggs was discharged at the crusaders and scarcely one among them escaped the missiles. One woman who seemed to be a ringleader among the disorderly crowd, held a glass of beer elevated above the heads of those standing near her and tauntingly beckoned the crusaders to partake of the foaming lager.

The police made a petty show of authority by circulating among the crowd, but so far as known requested no one to desist from yelling. When parties were pointed out who threw eggs, they refused to make any arrest and all seemed to be in sympathy with one who remarked, "Vell them ladies is humbugs anyhow." The Mayor should either see that the men on duty, on that part of Penn avenue will protect respectable citizens, or discharge those men who for fear of being mobbed neglect to make necessary arrests.

BULL RUN ROWDIES.

An Old Feud Leads to a Fight—Pistols Drawn and Shots Freely Exchanged—One Man Receives a Probably Fatal Wound—The Difficulties Renewed in Diamond Alley.

For some time past that portion of the Hill, known as Bull Run, has been infested by a number of dangerous and turbulent young men, which has divided into two sections, between the members of which there has existed a deep seated feud. "Bull" White may be considered as the leader of one of these crowds, and "Jimmy" Donovan and Edward Everson as the prominent representatives of the other. Whenever members of these disorderly factions met a fight was the almost inevitable consequence and these conflicts have always resulted in more or less serious consequences. Only on Saturday last "Bull" White and Everson met at McKee's Rocks and engaged in a rough and tumble fight, which resulted in White having his cheek severely bitten by his antagonist. Not satisfied with the termination of the battle the two men agreed to meet yesterday at 9 o'clock in the morning and resume the fight. It is stated that White was at the rendezvous at the time fixed but that Everson failed to make his appearance.

A DUEL PROPOSED.

Yesterday afternoon "Bull" met Donovan, one of Everson's friends, in Maddeni's tavern, at the corner of Denny alley and High street, and some angry words passed between them as to the non-appearance of Everson. After considerable excited talk it was decided that "Bull" White and Jimmy Donovan should fight a duel. White selected as his second a young man named Sheldon, and Donovan chose James McAuliffe, a man of desperate character. These preliminaries having been arranged, two duelling pistols were procured, carefully oiled and loaded, and the party started for the saloon en route to the ground of battle. When they had proceeded but a few yards along High street it is stated, that some one in the party who is unknown fired a shot which was quickly followed by a second and a third. Donovan as soon as the first pistol exploded ran from the party, and "Bull" and McAuliffe started into Drew's livery stable. Here the former jumped into a carriage while McAuliffe appears to have remained close by the vehicle. Word of the proposed duel having reached the ears of "Paddy" White, (brother to Bull) he ran down to the stable and attempted to pull his brother from the carriage in which he was sitting.

A FUSILADE.

As soon as McAuliffe saw "Paddy" White, it is stated that he pulled his revolver and fired at him. "Paddy" also drew his pistol and returned the fire. After this exchange of shots both men seemed to have endeavored to gain some shelter, White taking up a position near some horses. McAuliffe, as alleged, followed him up and reaching up over the horse's back again fired, the ball this time striking Paddy on the back of the head, causing a painful flesh wound. Thinking he had wounded White, McAuliffe started to run, and as he left the stable another shot was discharged at him by White, which, however, did not strike him. Both "Bull" and "Paddy" then started in pursuit of the fugitive, who turned twice upon them and discharged two more barrels of his revolver. When he tried to fire the fifth shot, he states, that "she went back on him," and finding that the Whites were close upon him, he ran into Cherry alley and rushed into a house kept by a Mrs. McAfee. His pursuers were close upon him and entered almost simultaneously with him.

SHOT WITH HIS OWN PISTOL.

"Bull" and "Paddy" grabbed with McAuliffe and threw him to the floor of the room and then, as alleged, the latter, assisted by some person whose name is not known, commenced kicking him about the face. While this was going on McAuliffe states that "Bull" put his hands into his (McAuliffe's) pocket and took out his pistol He deliberately pointed it at him, at a distance of not more than eighteen inches, and fired, the ball taking effect in his back a little to the left of the spine. Just as this shot had been fired Officer Mike Harrison arrived at the house, and being refused admission, kicked in the door. When the policeman entered he saw McAuliffe prostrate on the floor, "Bull" standing over him with a pistol in each hand, and "Paddy" kicking the helpless man about the head. Harrison wrenched the two pistols from "Bull's" hands and took him to the lock-up. "Paddy's" face and clothing were saturated with blood which was flowing freely from the wound in his head, and McAuliffe was also covered by the crimson life current.

THE INJURED MAN.

After seeing "Bull" safely locked up the officer proceeded to search for the other two men. He found McAuliffe as he was being driven home through Grant street, in a wagon, and took him also to the Central Station House. Here it was evident that his wound was a very serious one, and Dr. McCoy was speedily summoned to attend to his injuries. The Doctor gives it as his opinion that the ball after entering the body, took a downward and backward direction and may probably have penetrated the left lung. His pulse was beating 126 and he was spitting blood. At his own request the injured man was subsequently taken to his home at No 26 Ross street.

McAuliffe does not bear by any means an enviable reputation. He was pardoned out of the Penitentiary only a month or two ago and very soon after was arrested for threatening to cut with a razor, the proprietor of a dining saloon opposite the Municipal Hall.

THE TROUBLE RENEWED.

About 8 o'clock last night the trouble was renewed, the scene, however, being shifted to Diamond alley. The young man Sheldon, who was chosen by "Bull" White as his second in the prospective duel, and who did not figure in the bloody fight of the afternoon, was then attacked by "Jimmy" Donovan. About the hour named, Sheldon was passing up town when he was met by Donovan who drew a revolver and discharged it at him. Sheldon struck Donovan and knocked him down, and while on the ground he fired another shot. Officers Keefer and Stack hearing the report of the pistols ran to the scene and the former arrested Donovan while the latter captured Sheldon. Both men were taken to the lock-up.

INFORMATION MADE.

While McAuliffe was lying upon the stretcher at the Central Station House he made information against "Bull" White, "Paddy" White, Donovan, Sheldon and others, charging them with assault with attempt to kill.

Sheldon has made information against Donovan for felonious assault and battery, and officer Mike Harrison will this morning make information against other parties who are known to have been concerned in the shooting affray on the hill.

Sheldon was last night released on bail.

THE ALLEGHENY COUNTY TEMPERANCE ALLIANCE.

Interesting Meeting Yesterday Morning—Adoption of a Resolution Offered by Mr. O. P. Barrett.

The Allegheny County Temperance Alliance met in their rooms, corner of Penn avenue and Sixth street, yesterday morning, Mr. Thomas H. Rabe in the Chair. After prayer by Rev. Mr. Phipps, O. P. Barrett, Esq., offered the following resolution: Resolved, that the wide-spread mischief and wretchedness produced by intoxicating drinks calls loudly for their extirpation as the only remedy for the terrible evils occasioned by the use of them, and that this can only be accomplished by a stern prohibition of their importation and manufacture.

After presenting the resolution, Mr. Barrett made a few remarks in its favor, of which the following is a synopsis. He first reviewed the evils of intemperance, and presented statistics to show that in the year 1870 the manufacturers and retailers realized from the sales of intoxicating liquors a sum equal to almost two-thirds of the entire public debt. He next called attention to the fact that the career of the tippler is marked by uniform stages, which in the beginning is not considered dangerous, but which finally results in sorrow, the breaking up of families, suicide and eternal death. He thought it might not be doing violence to probabilities to suppose that the poor victims of intemperance are lured to their destruction by the insidious wiles of the invisible "powers of the air," who lead them on until the last scene, when they reveal their hideous forms and close the existence of their deluded devotee in affrighted delirium. He next asked the question, "What shall be said of the dealers in liquor," who cause such unutterable woe. He believed that many of them pursued their occupation without reflecting upon its consequences and that the great aim was to make money. He next quoted from the reports of our own city to show that nearly all the crime committed was chargeable to intemperance. He thought manufacturers and dealers in all spirituous liquors were callous to the terrible wrongs they were committing upon society, and questioned the right of the Government to license drinking houses under any circumstances, arguing that it is granting one man the right to rob and slay his fellow. He closed by making a strong appeal to Christians to use their influence toward the wiping out of this great evil. At the close of his remarks the resolution was unanimously adopted after which the Alliance adjourned.

KINDERGARTEN SCHOOLS.

Miss Peabody at the Third Presbyterian Church.

Yesterday afternoon, according to notice in our columns, quite a number of ladies and gentlemen assembled at the Third Presbyterian church assembly rooms, on Sixth avenue, to meet Miss Peabody, the apostle of Kindergarten schools. The lady excited the most earnest attention of those present. Her talk was entirely informal, but the close attention, the tearful sympathy and the earnest longing for further information was most evident. A large number of the leading ladies and gentlemen of Pittsburgh were present and manifested a lively interest in the subject. It was stated that copies of Miss Peabody's lecture, No. 1, could be had at the book stores, and copies of her Kindergarten Messenger were left for sale to the ladies after the meeting, with Mrs. Herron, while a number of copies were taken by those present. It was evidently the universal feeling that the matter was one of the utmost importance to the State and the Nation. One of the points Miss Peabody pressed, was that while many objected that the Kindergarten school system could not be successfully introduced because of its expensiveness, yet the fact had been thoroughly demonstrated in Boston and elsewhere that the children who had passed through the Kindergarten were uniformly the brightest pupils in the primary schools, and that not only were two or three years actually saved by the rapid advance they made in the schools, but it actually affected their whole after lives. The meeting was evidently a most decided success, and few persons would be more warmly welcomed back to Pittsburgh than this thoughtful, earnest, gifted, eloquent lady, whose child-like simplicity and earnestness seemed to win all hearts.

"Prof. North's Cream Soap,"

manufactured by S. M. Wilson (who peddles it around the streets, in house up stairs and down, upon his knees) is warranted to remove stains of any kind from fabrics of the coarsest and finest, without affecting either color or goods. Mr. Wilson has been a cripple from birth, and although his box of soap is really an admirable article and worth the twenty five cents he sells it at, his almost helpless condition appeals to the sympathies of the charitably disposed of our citizens. If any are overlooked in his rounds, the soap may be procured, for a few days, at No. 181 Second avenue, where Mr. Wilson is stopping.

INVESTIGATING ENGINEER SHIELDS.

The Charges Preferred Against Him by Contractor Howard—The Testimony Elicited Last Night—Mr. Shields Maintains that the Estimates Made by Him are Fair and Correct.

The sub-committee of the Water Committee appointed to investigate the charges preferred by Contractor Howard against Assistant Engineer J. E. Shields, met last night in Municipal Hall. The members present were Messrs. Brown, Thompson and Harrison, also the parties interested. It will be remembered that Mr. Howard's charges against Mr. Shields are that the latter did not furnish him with correct or fair estimates of the work done by him on the Hiland avenue reservoir. All the estimates made by Mr. Shields were taken up and examined item by item, the witness asseverating that all of them are correct.

After being sworn, Mr. Shields gave his testimony as follows, the members of the committee interrogating him:

STONE MEASUREMENT.

I made the estimates for May, June and July from estimates and measurements. I would prefer speaking of one month at a time as a general answer would not cover all estimates in detail. By asking as to each of them I could give more satisfactory answers. When I took hold I discovered the first error, in paving laid in Hiland reservoir, on the day I made my estimate for work done during May. Some time previous to making my first estimate I had taken a tape line and measured the amount of paving laid the first day of May. I measured the paving and found about 649 yards laid. The amount estimated up to that time in the preceding voucher was 1859 yards. I only measured the paving laid on the slopes. I measured up stone delivered on Hiland reservoir ground at the time of taking the estimate on the 1st of June. It amounted to five hundred and twenty-eight yards of stone on hand and not laid. I measured no stone delivered and unloaded at Haight's Run. I was not assigned to that duty. I returned eight hundred and eighty yards of stone delivered, on the estimate for the month of May, at Hiland reservoir. I had general directions from the Chief Engineer that I was to go out there and remain about two weeks. I had a line or two of instructions, from time to time, about the work, from Mr. Kennedy. I went out about the 4th of May, and Mr. Green remained there until the 15th. He had no authority to give me instructions. He was the engineer in charge of the work. Mr. Kennedy's instructions to me were to go out to Hiland avenue and remain about two weeks.

Speaking direct to Mr. Kennedy—You said to me you thought from what you had heard, and knowing the habits of Mr. Green, that he might take away from that office books or valuable papers. You requested me to sleep out there to prevent such an occurrence and in that connection asked me if I had a family.

To Mr. Thompson—Mr. Kennedy told me I was to take charge of that work. I then assumed charge or at least considered myself in charge. Mr. Green freely gave me information from time to time never refusing it. I had help in making these estimates. I consider the estimate for the month of May, with the information I had at that time, a correct one. I don't remember who assisted me in preparing my estimate for May. No one assisted me in checking my calculations. A great many have the rodman to assist them. Mr. Kennedy did not interfere in the preparation of my estimates.

HE MADE SUGGESTIONS

but I am not the one to say whether they were improper. The only suggestion that occurs to me is, I asked if the extra foot that the specifications required to be placed on the inner slope of the embankment were to be allowed. Mr. Kennedy replied "yes." I answered that the extra foot had not been put on, pointing to the slopes of the eastern compartment. Mr. Kennedy replied that it should be allowed as it was customary. But a small portion of one side of the eastern compartment was built with that extra foot and then the plan was discontinued. In making estimates of excavations for May I did it by measurement with instruments. I was assisted by Emil Lowe and John Gibbon. I did not measure all the puddling for May. I arrived at part of it by time. I took the time of men employed and reduced it to yards at fifty cents a yard. The balance I measured. For the rubble and stone masonry I made the estimate for May. It was measured from the plan in the office as is the case in all work of that character.

THE JUNE ESTIMATE

That is my estimate for June, (shown) I made it in Mr. Kennedy's office. I refer to the paving. The note on the margin was made at Mr. Kennedy's dictation. [The note is as follows: "2,412 cubic yards of stone paving actually laid to July 1st, 1874, at $9—21.708. On this advances have been made in the Brilliant Hill reservoir estimates at 11.536 for delivery. The balance of 10,172 has been allowed in the current estimates for laying in the wall. Future estimates will be made out as heretofore, so that paving will be estimated twice, once as stone delivered at $5 per cubic yard, and again as paving, when laid, at $4 per cubic yard, making together the contract price of $9 per cubic yard."] I furnished the amount of money that had been paid up to the 1st of May, and he furnished the amount that had been paid on Brilliant Hill, which I knew nothing about. I did not discover the information on which the note is based, but I was quick to discover the result. I discovered it in Mr. Kennedy's office, and, as a well known writer says,

BY "INTUITIVE PERCEPTION."

I made the estimates in Mr. Kennedy's office, because it was customary to go there about estimate time and talk over it. The stone mentioned in the estimate were delivered partly at the reservoir and partly at Haight's Run. I do not know how much was delivered at the reservoir. Of the stone delivered I made the estimate from Mr. Howard's account. I cannot state that that was the proper way to do, but I was only following the precedent that had been established. I did not make any estimates of stone paving laid for either May or June, because I could not. There were only 609 yards laid, in May 943 yards were laid, and 860 yards in June, making in all 2,412 yards actually laid. I returned no money during these months because there was no money due the contractor. Up to the first day of May Mr. Howard had received, on account of paving laid at that time on Hiland reservoir $10,172, as shown by current estimates, and Mr. Kennedy's statement to me that he had received on Brilliant reservoir estimates, on account of delivery, the sum of $11,536. That paid Mr. Howard in full up to July 1st for paving laid at his contract price at $9 per yard. Mr Kenedy gave me that information to indite that rate by. I could have arrived at the amount laid on Hiland reservoir. I could not have reached the amount if I had not received the Brilliant Hill estimates from Mr. Kennedy. I know nothing about any money paid on Brilliant Hill estimates. The Chief Engineer gave me the statement in writing.

(Original produced and shown.)

THE JULY ESTIMATE.

The estimates for stone paving, at four dollars per yard, in July, are made in accordance with instructions from the Chief Engineer. The estimate was made by measurement. I am satisfied it is a correct one. The estimate of 633 yards of solid rock is also correct. I took the estimate for that on the ground. The estimate for 2,906 cubic yards of puddling is also correct. The other items in the estimate were also referred to and pronounced correct. In the estimate for July there should have been an item of 180 66-100 yards of rubble masonry which should have been allowed for that month. I overlooked it in the hurry of making up the estimate.

MR. HOWARDS' EXTRA WORK.

In regard to the bill of Mr. Howard for extra work, I think it is incorrect. It is not a bill that properly comes before this committee because it is not in proper shape. He is entitled to pay for extra work which I allowed him, for excessive excavation, in the estimate for July, amounting to $100 50.

Mr. Shields stated that he wished Mr. Howard to make out a bill stating specifically what he claims extra compensation for. Before the committee adjourned, Mr. Shields said that the private drawer of his desk at his residence, containing some valuable papers, had been broken into some time since last Saturday night, and a part of a memorandum torn off and carried away. It was not, however, of any great value, and he did not miss any other papers, but at this particular time he was at a loss to account for the robbery.

The examination of this witness being concluded, the committee adjourned to meet again next Thursday night.

PROBABLE MURDER.

A Negro Badly Beaten at Glendale, on the P., Ft. W. & C. R. R.—Particulars of the Affair—The Assailants in the Allegheny Police Station.

In addition to the shooting in this city, reported elsewhere, we are called upon to chronicle an affair that occured about five o'clock last evening, at Glendale on the P., Ft. W. & C. R. R. about eight miles below Allegheny city, and which it is thought will be attended with fatal results, to a negro named Mathews.

Shortly after 5 o'clock a dispatch was received at the Allegheny Mayor's office from Glendale to the effect that a riot was in progress there and asked that some police be sent down. Word was at once sent to Lieut. Merriman in the Ninth Ward to take a squad of men and go down.

It appears that a man named Herrman Ketterer keeps a tavern at Glendale called the Glendale House, and yesterday afternoon he left the house in charge of his wife and came up to the city. Shortly before five o'clock two negroes, one of whom is named Matthews and a white man named George Lynch, entered the saloon all considerably under the influence of liquor and demanded whisky of Mrs. Ketterer but she refused whereupon they became very angry and Matthews took a chair and struck Mrs. Ketterer on the head and arm, injuring her slightly as she dodged below the bar. He then struck a little child with the chair, and having broken that one took another and again attempted to strike Mrs. Ketterer and forced his way behind the bar, whereupon she ran into another room and a man named William Tramp attempted to protect her, when the negro began smashing up the doors and everything he could reach. In the meantime Lynch had closed the doors to prevent any one from coming to Mrs. Ketterer's assistance. A number of persons having been attracted by her screams. Just about this time the train from town arrived bringing Mr. Ketterer down, and as soon as he stepped off the cars several persons called to him that his wife was being murdered, and he at once ran to his house followed by a number of other persons, and made for Matthews, who ran out of the door and started down the road, the other negro and Lynch having made off in another direction. Matthews was closely followed by Ketterer and Tramp, and it is said Ketterer picked up the handle of a pick and Tramp picked up a club, and both of them struck Matthews a number of blows on the head, crushing the skull and inflicting such wounds that no hopes of his recovery are entertained. Ketterer and Tramp, accompanied by Mrs. Ketterer, then got on the next train and started up toward Allegheny City, and the wounded negro was removed to his home in Sewickley. When the train arrived at Wood's Run, Lieutenant Merriman and officer Morriman, who were about to proceed to Glendale, were called to the train and Ketterer and Tramp placed in their hands, and they were at once taken to the Central Station in Allegheny. Last evening our reporter conversed with both the prisoners and they both denied that they had struck the negro on the head. Ketterer stated that he had struck him with his fist on the side and afterward picked up a piece of board and struck him on the shoulder.

Last evening Mr. A. T. Goff, of Glendale, made information before Mayor Fleming charging both these men with felonious assault and battery. He is very positive in his statement that these two men are the men who attacked the negro. Mayor Fleming refused to release them on any amount of bail, and will hold them until it is seen how the negro's injuries will result. The time for a hearing has been fixed for nine o'clock on Thursday morning. At last accounts no hopes of the negro's recovery were entertained.

THE "HILL" TO DAY.

Arrival of Sporting Men Yesterday—Newspaper Men from Abroad.

The general topic of conversation yesterday among sporting circles, was the prize fight for the light weight championship of America between Sam Collyer and Billy Edwards. Edwards arrived in this city on Sunday night from Buffalo, N. Y., and remained a short time with Joseph French, on Tenth street, when he left for Perrysville, from which point he will proceed this morning to the battle ground. Collier has been located at McKees Rocks, but he disappeared yesterday, and will not likely turn up until he meets his combatant this morning at the scene of encounter. Among the "shoulder hitters" who have made their appearance in the city, may be mentioned Harry Hicken, Arthur Chambers, Carroll, of Canada; Dooney Harris, John Hickey, who was once light-weight champion; Tom Allen, Joe Coburn, John Keating, Dick Holywood, Dougherty, of Richmond; and Tom Allen. Among the newspapers represented is the New York Herald, by Joe Elliott; New York News, by Harding; Cincinnati Times, by Alexander Henderson; and the Cincinnati Commercial, by Callahan.

About one o'clock the steamer McCormick and two flats moved from the wharf at the foot of Liberty street containing about as demoralized a collection of human nature as ever was gathered in these United States. Pickpockets, confidence men, sneak thieves, pugilists, public officers, and burglars, packed like sardines in a box, trusted themselves shoulder to shoulder. No sooner was the word given to back out than the event was signalized by a volley from fire arms and a drunken, fiendish shout. Two or three men were thrown into the water, one of whom swam to shore, and the others were rescued by skiffs. A more lawless crowd never more appropriately celebrated a start on an inhuman errand than did the tag-rag and bob tail—the scum of the country, as they disgraced the quiet of the early morning by their shouting and yelling. An excursion inaugurated by such proceedings cannot but terminate in uproar—perhaps in violence, if the waters of the Ohio do not claim many of them for victims before they have proceeded far from their starting point.

POLICE CLOTHING.

Meeting of the Sub-Committee Last Night.

A meeting of the Sub-Committee on Clothing of the Police Committee, was held last evening, in the Mayor's office, with Chairman Watson and Messrs. Rosewell and Galvin present. Mr. C. P. Duff stated that at the last meeting of the Police Committee, it was stated that the Sub-Committee on Clothing were to blame for the want of uniformity in the appearance of the police force while on duty. He had called this meeting of the committee to notify the members that they were thus blamed. In his opinion the committee could not issue a single order to any member of the force that he would be bound to obey.

Mr. Galvin presented a resolution providing that the Mayor be requested to instruct the Chief of Police to issue an order on August 14, prohibiting the Captains from allowing any officers to go on duty unless fully uniformed, substitutes excepted.

On motion of Mr. Galvin, it was also decided that the Captains should instruct all officers to wear their numbers while on duty. Adjourned.

THE OIL CITY RACE.

Outstanding and Unsettled Accounts.

Some of the friends of the Columbia Boat Club, who accompanied them to Oil City on Saturday, are complaining bitterly of the treatment which they received at the hands of many of the residents of that oleaginous place. As is usual in all boat races, there was of course considerable betting, and the men from Allegheny and Pittsburgh were anxious to "place" all the stamps they could, upon their favorite Columbias. A good deal of money was also "posted" on the single scull race, which was advertised to come off. This event fell through, and, it is alleged, that when the Pittsburghers went to the hotels, with the proprietors of which they had deposited their money, these persons refused to give it up. In fact, the charge is that the Oil City saloon keepers "beat" everybody they could, and that there is now in that place over $200 in money, which has been wrongfully appropriated by grasping and dishonest stakeholders.

ALTOONA.

Terrible Storm on Last Saturday.

A destructive storm passed over Altoona on last Saturday, beginning at 10 o'clock and lasting about two hours, which did a great deal of damage. The streets were badly torn up, and the cellars all along the different streets were filled with water, and in some instances families were compelled to move into the second story of their residences, which were situated in the lower districts in order to escape from the deluge. Bridges were carried away, the railroad crossings submerged, and when the trains came into the depot, passengers had to be conveyed to the Logan Hotel porch, on trucks. The lightning was of the most vivid discription, and in two cases the electric current struck houses in which families were seated at the time. A number of individuals were stunned by the shock, but no one injured. It is said to have been the most violent visitation of the watery element in that section of the country for a long time.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY.

An Allegheny Child Taken For Charley Ross.

Officer Swain, of the Allegheny detective force, yesterday received a dispatch from the Chief of Police of Dayton, Ohio, stating that he had arrested a man who had a little boy with him that answered the description of the missing child, Charlie Brewster Ross, who was kidnapped from Philadelphia, and that the man protested that the child was his son, and his name was Huber De Burk and that he resided at the corner of Rebecca street and Grant avenue, Allegheny. The dispatch requested the officer to ascertain whether such a person resided there and if the child with him really was his son. On receiving the dispatch detective Swain at once proceeded to the place mentioned, and there found that the statement made by the man was true. The officer also saw a photograph of the suspected child. He at once telegraphed back to Dayton that the man's statement was correct, and of course, on the receipt of the dispatch there, the parties were at once released.

European Steamship Arrivals Yesterday.

Hurra, for Cheap Shoes!

The rush for boots and shoes still continues at R. Taggart's, 129 Federal street, Allegheny, and the reason is obvious, because he has received from the eastern markets an unusually heavy stock and is not quite giving them away, but it can be truthfully said that he is almost giving them away, so low are they in price.—His cheapness is the secret of his success.

INJUNCTION WANTED.

Action Against the Commissioners for Brownsville and Washington Avenues.

In the District Court, yesterday, a bill in equity was filed by Adam Bender against the Commissioners and contractors for the improvement of Brownsville and Washington avenues. The complainant alleges that defendants, in pursuance of authority from Councils, have made a contract for the grading, curbing, paving and masonry of the avenues, and have entered upon his property and made an excavation of about twelve feet therein, carelessly and negligently throwing the dirt upon his property. They also propose to erect a stone wall of the height of about seventeen feet, of the width at the base of about six feet, and at the top of about two and a half feet, which encroaches upon the property about ten feet at the upper end, and about eleven and a half feet at the lower end. They further propose to fill up the property to the height of the wall and level of the grade, and to pave and curb the same. The complainant makes application for an injunction on the ground that the proposed acts of the defendants will render his property unfit for purposes of residence or business, and will necessitate the raising of his dwelling house about seventeen feet; that the wall will cut his property in two parts, and deprive him of access to Brownsville avenue. The defendants have also neglected to give ample security as provided for in the Constitution.

Freedom vs. Slavery.

We believe that it is clearly the right of the physician to set forth his advantages and facilities for the practice of his profession as it is that of any other professional or business man. Confident from past success in the relief of suffering humanity that our scientific examinations, chemical, microscopic, and otherwise, together with our new remedies, new discoveries, and new modes of treatment will be more extensively adopted the more widely their beneficial effects are made known, we feel warranted in presenting the facts to the public.

As physicians, we claim the right to employ whatever means we believe necessary to cure, without regard to this or that system of practice, and we freely accord the same right to every other practitioner, without slavish deference to any.

We believe that the afflicted also have the right to be free. That they have a right to obtain their professional advice and medicines wherever they please.

When a patient applies to a physician, his grand object is to be cured; and he, above all others, should be free to act for himself in the selection of his physician, untrammeled by the dictates of fear or favor.

We have made the most ample preparation for the prompt treatment of every kind of disease, whether Acute or Chronic, Medical or Surgical, and shall endeavor to render the fullest satisfaction in every case, both as regards attention to patients and moderation in charges.

For the benefit of those living at a distance laboring under Chronic Affections, and unable to attend in person, we would say: by sending a vial of urine for examination, the necessary medicine can be sent them by express.

Cheapness and Variety.

Two very important items to the purchasers of goods are the assortment from which to select, such as are suitable and the prices at which the same are sold. Both these requisites can be found to perfection at the extensive millinery and trimmings store of Messrs. Rosenbaum & Co., Nos. 78 and 80, Market, as they have made extensive preparations for, and are now carrying on, a grand clearance sale of all goods in their line, and at a great reduction in prices If you want goods at less than half the usual prices, then go to this sale and secure extra bargains in goods of extra value. Parties often offer refuse, soiled or worthless goods at very low prices, but the goods offered by Messrs. Rosenbaum & Co., do not come in this category, but are of excellent quality.

IS YOUR STOMACH UNEASY!

Many a dyspeptic would be willing, it is said, to give half his wealth for an easy stomach. If this is a fact, why do any of our "solid men" continue to endure the pangs of indigestion? Is it not patent to the whole community that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will cure the worst cases of chronic dyspepsia in six or eight weeks? No occasion for the expenditure of half a fortune; a few dollars will suffice to accomplish the object. Surely every man who is not "sand blind" to the great utilitarian facts of the day must know that this celebrated vegetable specific promptly relieves all diseased conditions of the stomach, liver, bowels and nervous system, restores their vigor and imparts regularity to their functions. Is your epigastrium uneasy? Is the vulture, disease, gnawing at your liver? If so, resort at once to the Bitters.

Sewers to be Put Down in the Flooded Districts—Improvements in Other Places

The Street Committee of Allegheny Councils held a special meeting last evening. The report of Mr. Tyson, Street Commissioner of the Eastern District, of the work done by him in the flooded districts was received and filed. The pay-roll amounting to $86 50 for extra men in the Eastern District was approved. The Second Ward School Board was authorized to grade and pave Irwin avenue in front of their new School House. The Street Commissioners were directed to notify all parties whose sidewalks need repairing to repair them at once. The ordinance for grading and paving Beaver avenue was ordered to be printed. The Street Commissioner of the Western District was directed to notify the P. F. W. & C. R. R. Co. to repair the abutment of their bridge at Superior Station, and also to repair their crossings on McClure and Pennsylvania avenues and on Strawberry lane. The Street Commissioners were also directed to notify all parties removing dirt from their yards or cellars, and placing the same on the streets, to have the same removed within five days.

The following contracts for sewers in the Butchers' Run district were awarded: For main sewer from Ohio street to Perry street, to replace the old Butchers' Run stone culvert, awarded to W. T. Dunn for $5 350. For main sewer from Leotz's line to Stuckrath's tannery, on Spring Garden avenue, to replace the old stone culvert, awarded to W. T. Dunn for $6,350.

It was decided to report an ordinance to Councils for a main sewer from Church alley to Concord street, to replace the old Butchers' Run stone culvert. The Clerk was directed to notify the contractor building the Madison avenue and East street sewer to stop as soon as he reached East street.

A resolution was adopted that the cost of all main sewers built in the Butcher's Run district to replace old stone culverts, be paid out of the general sewerage fund. The Street Commissioner of the Western District was directed to build a retaining wall at the head of Gallagher street, and the committee adjourned.

Court of Quarter Sessions.

(Judge Stowe on the Bench.)

This Court was in session for a short time yesterday, for the purpose of hearing petitions in regard to certain insane persons confined in the county jail.

Michael Roney, who met with an accident at the water-works some time ago, and who has since exhibited signs of derangement, was ordered to be removed to the insane department of the poor-farm.

A man named Hanberger, who has been confined in the county jail for some time past on a charge of surety of the peace preferred by some of the members of his family, who allege that he is subject to fits of insanity, was released on his own recognizance, Judge Stowe thinking the evidence in the case not sufficient to warrant his further detention.

A DAUGHTER of Mr. Samuel Morrison, of Brushvalley township, Indiana county, about seventeen years of age, was attacked by a neighbor's dog, a few days since, and received injuries from which she will probably not recover. The dog first sprang upon her biting her on the back of the neck. He then seized her by the shoulder, tearing her flesh in a terrible manner. His hold failing here, he again caught her by the arm, about the elbow, crushing the bones, and inflicting most serious injuries. The terrible brute seemed intent on destroying his victim and bit her in various parts of the body. No men being about the house, Mrs. Hartman with the aid of a stick and after repeated efforts, drove the infuriated brute away. A physician was called to dress the wounds, and found them of a very serious character. He took some pieces of bone from the crushed mass about the elbow.

LAST CHANCE FOR

The day is now absolutely fixed and there will be no variation from the programme now announced. A sufficient number of tickets had been sold to have enabled us to have had a large drawing on the 31st July, but a short postponement was considered preferable to a partial drawing. Let it be borne in mind that
